Outrage at Independence Followed by Rioting at Victor.

CROWD FIRED UPON

Bloodshed Drives Mob Mad and Battle Rages in the Streets.

MORE TROUBLE IS EXPECTED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

VICTOR, COL., June 6.—A persistent rumor is current here to the effect that Sheriff Bell was shot and killed tonight.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Cripple Creek, Col., June 6.—Not satisfied with the terrible infernal machine outrage at Independence, early this morning, when 12 men were killed and seven injured, the mining town of Victor has been the scene of deadly rioting all the afternoon. It is known that one man was killed and at least six others injured, two of them fatally, during a mass meeting over the outrage of the morning.

Maddened by this later bloodshed, the miners began to arm themselves and later a pitched battle took place between a squad of soldiers and the union miners, and it is said that seven men were killed and a number wounded in the second battle. None of the guardsmen were hurt.

At midnight the streets are filled with armed men and a further outbreak is expected at any moment.

At this hour reports that the number of deaths due to the riot is 22, although all cannot be accounted for.

The victims of the fusillade at the mass meeting, when 40 shots were fired into a crowd of 1,200 people, are:

THE DEAD.

R. M'GEE of Victor.

THE INJURED.

WILLIAM HOSKINS of Goldfield, shot through body; may die.
ALFRED MILLER of Goldfield, shot in body; may die.
J. D. DAVIS, skull fractured by blow from revolver.
PETER FLEMING, shot.
FRED STRUDEVESS, engineer at Independence mine.
UNIDENTIFIED WOMAN.

Previous to the rioting Sheriff Henry M. Robertson had been summoned to a meeting of the Mine Owners' association in Armory hall, by a committee composed of C. C. Hamlin, secretary of the association; J. S. Murphy, manager of the Findley mine, and L. E. Hill of the Theresea mine. At this meeting Robertson's resignation was demanded. He yielded to the demand. Then Edward Bell was appointed by the county commissioners to fill Robertson's term. Robertson was a union miner before he was elected sheriff. Bell is a member of the Citizens Alliance.

Beginning of Trouble.

Mr. Haml'n had declared that the men who are responsible for the Independence outrage should be hanged from a telephone pole and that he would be only too glad to help pull the rope, if the murderers could be discovered and captured.

A squad of soldiers under the command of Maj. H. A. Naylor had notified all hardware and gun stores in Victor not to sell any firearms or ammunition without a permit from him or the police authorities, and then to take the name and description of the purchaser.

Nearly all mines in the region had been closed by order of the Mine Owners' association, and hundreds of miners flocked into town from the surrounding hills. Fully 1,200 supporters of the association gathered about the armory at a mass meeting.

At the same time, 1,000 men, armed with all sorts of weapons, were assembling on the vacant ground at Victor avenue and Fourth street, in response to a call for a union mass meeting. Most of these were union men who declared their intention to resist to the death any attempt to run them out of the region.

City Marshal Deposed.

City Marshal Michael O'Connel, who had been refused admittance to the mine owners' headquarters, hurriedly swore in several hundred citizens, most of them union men, as deputy policemen. After a conference with Sheriff Bell and a number of mine owners Mayor Frank D. French removed City Marshal O'Connel and dismissed his deputies. Then followed the rioting in which McGee was killed and at least six persons were injured.

Secretary Hamlin was making a short address, and in concluding said:

"I want to hear what the boys in the mines have got to say about this trouble," referring to the Independence disaster.

"Let me talk."

At this the crowd began to hiss Hoskins, and cried:

"Put him out!"

A free-for-all fight followed and shooting began. Most of the shots were directed skyward, but Hoskins fell with a bullet in the body and the crowd scattered.

Hamlin Stood Fast.

Secretary Hamlin, who was standing on a wagon, kept talking, unmindful of the storm of bullets that whizzed about his head.

After the first excitement had somewhat cleared away the injured and the dying were gathered up.

R. McGee of Victor, who was instantly killed, had been standing on an embankment 50 feet above the men who had been fighting, and was an innocent spectator. Alfred Miller and J. D. Davis were carried to the Victor hospital.

A witness of the shooting said: "I saw them carry away three men, one shot through the head and another shot through the arm."

After the rioting began Sheriff Bell ordered out all the soldiers in the region. He also appointed 100 deputies.

Soldiers had already arrested three ed-

Infernal Machine Took Thirteen Lives in Early Morning.

ELEVEN ALSO HURT

Artifice for Exploding Dynamite Showed Skill and Preparation.

MANY SAVED BY SLIGHT DELAY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

Cripple Creek, Col., June 6.—Twelve men were killed and seven were severely wounded today by the explosion of an infernal machine at the railroad station in Independence. Eleven men were killed outright, being blown to pieces, and one died later from his wounds. All the killed and injured, with the exception of two men from the Deadwood mine, were non-union miners employed on the night shift of the Findley mine.

The infernal machine with which the murder was committed consisted of a quantity of dynamite, probably 300 pounds, a loaded revolver and a long, fine steel wire attached to the trigger. The revolver was fastened so that the pulling of the trigger would not draw it away. The wire ran from under the station platform to the cribbing of the Delmonico property, about 400 feet away, where its end was fastened to a rung of a chair. The dynamite was placed close to the muzzle of the revolver, which was discharged by pulling the wire. The ball from the revolver and the resultant concussion exploded the dynamite.

Bloodhounds on Trail.

A man was seen running down the hill from the Delmonico property after the explosion. The Victor troops, who were ordered out by Major French, were so stationed as to keep people from passing over the path taken by this man, and bloodhounds were sent from Canyon City and Trinidad to trail the assassin.

The infernal machine used today was similar to the one exploded in the Vindicator mine on November 21, 1903, killing two men.

The men quit work at 2 o'clock this morning and were waiting to board a suburban train on the Florence & Cripple Creek railroad to return to their homes in Cripple Creek and Victor.

Just after the engineer of the approaching train blew the whistle as a signal to the miners, according to custom, a terrific explosion occurred underneath the station platform, on and near which 26 men were gathered. The platform was blown into splinters, the station was wrecked and a hole 20 feet in circumference and 20 feet in depth was torn in the ground.

Bodies Hurled in Air.

Fragments of bodies were hurled several hundred feet. Several bodies dropped into the pit made by the explosion, but heads, hands, ears, legs, arms and trunks were strewn about on all sides. Pieces of flesh were found on buildings 500 feet away, while splashes of blood were found on everything within a radius of 50 feet.

The force of the explosion was felt throughout the camp, and the crash awakened everybody. The approaching train was stopped and the trainmen rushed ahead to the scene of the disaster. They were joined in a few minutes by hundreds of persons, and relief work was begun at once.

A special train was sent from Cripple Creek carrying physicians, nurses, officers and many others, but when it reached Independence, the injured had already been placed on board a suburban train and removed to a hospital at Victor. The mangled bodies of the dead, pieced together as well as possible, were removed to the coroner's office.

Several Deaths Expected.

Amputations have been performed on a few of the wounded and it is almost certain that several of them will die. Most of the dead and wounded were unmarried.

Charles Rector of the Shurtloff mine was chatting with several men when the explosion occurred. He saw a number of men rushing toward the station and at that moment he was lifted from his feet. He was deafened by a terrible crash. He regained his feet to find himself uninjured.

H. W. Vanatta, a Findley miner, who narrowly escaped death, said:

"The earth seemed to heave under the platform and the station. The noise made was deafening. We had been at the station about two minutes when the explosion occurred. I was thrown 75 feet. A score of miners from the Shurtloff shaft were hurrying down the hill to the station. Had these men reached the platform, the casualty list would have been doubled. There must have been 300 pounds of explosive used, and it must have been set off by an electric spark or a revolver, as the miners would have smelled a fuse if one had been used."

Bodies Taken from Coroner.

George Remick was hurled many feet from the platform, but escaped with only a few bruises, although heavy timbers and rocks fell all about him.

By order of Maj. H. A. Naylor of the National guard the bodies were removed from the coroner's establishment to an

WOULD ESTABLISH CHURCH EMBASSY

Vatican Said to Desire Diplomatic Relations With the United States.

PURPOSE OF SATOLLI'S VISIT

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

Baltimore, June 6.—The mission of Cardinal Satolli to the United States, according to a statement of a high ecclesiastical authority here, is to establish diplomatic relations between the vatican and the government at Washington. It is believed that the former papal delegate to this country counts upon Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, and upon Mgr. Denis O'Connell, rector of the Catholic university, to aid him in the enterprise, and in the event of success, it is said, Archbishop Ireland would receive his long-coveted red hat and Mgr. O'Connell would be nominated the first nuncio credited by the vatican court to the United States government.

Going further into the details of this very remarkable revelation, a person high in the councils of the Catholic hierarchy of the United States, has the following to say:

"If it succeeds the prestige attaching to Satolli will be so great as to materially strengthen his chances for the papacy, for it is well known that his power elected Pius X.; that he refused the papal portfolio of state, and that he is the strongest man in the college of cardinals."

Archbishop Ireland is known to possess greater influence with the Republican party than any other ecclesiastic in the state. He proved this in the McKinley campaign by writing his famous letter in favor of the gold standard. In the meantime it is hinted that Mgr. O'Connell is not idle and that he is found more often among the politicians of the capital city than in the halls of the university.

On the whole this mission seems improbable, the movement is not feasible. Satalli tried in vain to accomplish his purpose when papal delegate. There is no reason for a change in attitude now.

MISS ROOSEVELT KNOWS THAT SHE IS OF AGE

Though President Has Decided Opinions About Her Appearing Semi-Officially.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Washington has watched with interest the reports of Miss Roosevelt's visit to the world's fair. She has won a reputation here for being indefatigable in pursuit of amusement, but it is felt that her St. Louis trip has established a record of its own. Miss Warder, who started out with Miss Roosevelt, succumbed after three trying days as co-guest of honor.

Washington is interested, too, in the view the president may take of the St. Louis trip. Of course his daughter has achieved what seems to be independence since the days when she was not permitted to attend King Edward's coronation because the president feared it would turn her head. Then he took measures to see that his daughter remained as inconspicuous as he could keep her and especially that she should in no sense appear in a semi-official role.

The president and Mrs. Roosevelt have decided opinions about the good taste of such appearances. Miss Roosevelt, however, has her own fortune, and shows a disposition to remember that she is of age. While at St. Louis she held the center of the stage.

RUMP CONVENTION TO DENOUNCE MR. PARKER

Call Issued for Meeting at Cooper Union to Work Against Present State Control.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Melvin G. Palliser of New York today issued a call for a Democratic convention to be held in Cooper union, June 18, to protest against the action of the Albany convention, and to send a delegation against Judge Parker's nomination, the New York state platform and the leadership of the "Hill-Belmont-McCarren combination."

The chairman of the committee having the meeting in charge is Judge J. M. Seabury. About 120 names have been attached to the call. Among them is that of William A. Coakley, president of the International Association of Lithographers' apprentices. The others include Democrats from all sections of New York state.

DALLAS, TEX., June 6.—Friends of Senator Bailey state that he has been selected by the Democratic national committee to act as temporary chairman of the St. Louis convention and that the Hon. John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, minority leader in the house of representatives, will be permanent chairman.

WEISER, IDAHO, June 6.—The Idaho Democratic convention adjourned after instructing the delegates to vote for W. R. Hearst for the presidential nomination.

DOVER, DEL., June 6.—After a conference of Democratic leaders who are here to attend tomorrow's state convention, a compromise was agreed upon between the Gray forces and Senator Kenney's supporters. It was agreed that the state convention shall adopt a resolution "requesting" the Delaware delegates "to place in nomination the name of Judge George Gray for president of the United States."

KILLED HIS FRIEND AND THEN DISAPPEARED

NEW YORK, June 6.—(Special.)—William La Point, an engineer for the New York Central Railroad Company, who ran down and killed Michael J. Scully, his best friend, in the freight yards of the company today, sprang from his engine, disappeared in the gray dawn and the police believe that he has ended his own life. For many years these two men had been chums. Scully was a conductor employed by the company.

RICHARD R. QUAY HAS GONE EAST

He Will Meet Penrose and Durham in Philadelphia This Morning.

WILL CALL UPON GOVERNOR

Richard R. Quay will confer with Senator Penrose and Commissioner Durham in Philadelphia today. Later he may accompany them to see Gov. Pennypacker.

Mr. Quay left for Philadelphia on the 10 o'clock train last night. If his father left any message concerning the senatorial successorship, the state leaders will receive it today. Mr. Quay would not discuss the possibility of his own candidacy for the senatorship. It was learned that he intends to confer with Durham and Penrose and is going east at their request.

After Mr. Quay talks with the two leaders today, arrangements will be made for a conference with Gov. Pennypacker. It is quite probable that the three men will go to Harrisburg this evening and may spend the night at the executive mansion. Tomorrow there will doubtless be some announcements from the state capital. With Mr. Quay joining with Messrs. Penrose and Durham in their call upon the governor, it is believed that a speedy decision will be reached.

The 10 o'clock train last night also carried Charles A. Muehlbronner, secretary of the Republican county committee, and Representative John H. Francies to Philadelphia. They are going down to add their voices in behalf of an Allegheny candidate for senator. Ex-Representative J. V. Clark of Washington county was on the train. He said that he was going to Atlantic City and was not mixing in the senatorial matter. He says that Congressman Acheson has gone to Texas.

Senator Flinn said that he expected to be called into consultation in the east before the successor of Senator Quay was agreed upon.

Senator Goehring of Allegheny said yesterday that he favored the election of an Allegheny county man as the successor of Quay. As this is a great business and industrial center, he believes that it should be represented in the senate. He says that a number of good men have been suggested.

MISS ALICE ROOSEVELT VICTIM OF CAB ACCIDENT

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Miss Alice Roosevelt, returning from St. Louis, where she has been the heroine of the world's fair drama, reached Washington this afternoon to be immediately made the victim of a cab accident. Through good fortune and the honest workmanship in the White House vehicles, she escaped unhurt. With her maid, Miss Roosevelt was driven from the depot toward home in a brougham that had been sent for them. At the northeast corner of the treasury building the horse suddenly reversed himself, the brougham following him in crack-the-whip fashion.

The corner is a busy one and was congested. The crowd at once recognized the White House liveries, rosette-decorated harness and smart equipage. After mixing with an automobile or two, three carriages and a hack that were either standing at the corner or passing, the horse attached to Miss Roosevelt's brougham fell, breaking the shafts, and tangled himself up in the harness by trying to roll.

Out of the midst of this scrimmage Miss Roosevelt suddenly emerged, active but unruffled. She had opened the brougham door and jumped. The maid also escaped, but in much agitation. Cabs and several policemen swarmed to the rescue, while the crowd stampeded between the wheels of one and the clubs of the other to get a view of the president's daughter. She ignored the demonstration and walked quickly away in the direction of the White House, followed by her maid.

WILL CONSULT PENNYPACKER

Penrose and Durham Defer Conclusion on the Senatorship.

MANY CONFERENCES

Chairmen Ford and Leslie Urge the Claims of Allegheny County.

ELKIN HAS NOTHING TO SAY

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 6.

Senator Boies Penrose and Insurance Commissioner Israel W. Durham held an all-day senatorial seance in the former's offices in the Arcade building. At 5 o'clock this afternoon, when all of the representatives of candidates on the ground had been heard, Penrose and Durham made the joint statement that they had nothing to say for publication relative to their personal preferences.

Gov. Pennypacker is to be consulted. Penrose or Durham, or both, expect to obtain the governor's opinion within the coming 24 hours. They will be largely guided by the executive's views, for the question of an appointment, or a special session of the legislature, has a large bearing upon the immediate situation. Not only is the governor to be consulted, but the leaders desire an expression from the prominent Republicans in the various counties, and no decision will be announced until a concensus of party opinion is had.

If surface indications are reliable, there is no reason to believe that Quay's successor will be chosen from outside Allegheny county. Four names have been submitted by the accredited representatives of the Republican county and city organizations, and tonight I find no one doubting that one of these gentlemen will be supported by the state organization. Other counties have presented the names of their favorite sons, have made a gallant fight for an indorsement, but they privately admit that Allegheny is in the lead. This, barring contingencies, is the undoubted situation.

Pittsburghers Meet Penrose.

Thomas J. Ford, Republican county chairman, and M. G. Leslie, city chairman, of Pittsburgh, and Fred W. Edwards, met Penrose and Durham this morning. They submitted four names to the state leaders, any one of which, they declared, would be satisfactory to the organization. Political conditions were reviewed, and the present status of affairs in Allegheny county were explained. It was urged that the commercial and industrial importance of the county entitled it to senatorial recognition; that Pittsburgh is the hub of the Western Pennsylvania iron and coal region and that its congressional interests are identical with those of other counties west of the mountains.

In the line of practical politics, the leaders were informed of the results which followed fusion victories in the county. It was demonstrated that the principal beneficiaries of the Citizens-Democratic campigns were Democrats, who now control four of the most important county and city offices, and that they also have a large showing in the police and fire departments, a condition which has prevented the Citizens party leaders from breaking their Democratic alliance and again participating in Republican primaries, rehabilitating themselves as regular Republicans. It was also emphasized that the next legislative delegation from Allegheny county would be composed almost exclusively of straight Republicans.

Bigelow Spoke for Elkin.

Durham and Penrose listened with interest to the statements of Ford and Leslie and told them to return at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Thomas S. Bigelow and John P. Elkin visited Penrose's offices. They had a brief talk with Durham, and Bigelow saw Senator Penrose. Bigelow urged Elkin for senator. After his return to the Hotel Walton, Mr. Bigelow authorized the following for The Gazette:

"While I came here on private business, I accepted the opportunity to say a word for my friend Elkin. You may quote me, however, as saying that I have not and will not antagonize the candidacy of any of the other senatorial candidates. Neither Penrose nor Durham informed me who they would support, and I have no information beyond what I read in the newspapers."

Mr. Bigelow left for home tonight. P. C. Boyle of Oil City had this to say of Congressman Sibley:

"Sibley's boom is taking care of itself. It has not as yet gotten under way, but it will be heard from in the near future. I regard his chances as good."

At 3 o'clock Chairmen Ford and Leslie again saw Penrose and Durham. The final conference was brief. They were told that the leaders did not care to commit themselves until they had talked with Gov. Pennypacker. Ford and Leslie left for Atlantic City at 4:14. Mr. Durham took the 5 o'clock train. The Allegheny county representatives will return in the morning and await the summons of Penrose and Durham.

Elkin's Silence Unbroken.

Superior Court Judge W. D. Porter also called on Penrose. He was at the Arcade building when Bigelow and Elkin were there, but did not accompany them. It was not learned who the judge favors for senator. Mr. Elkin saw the newspaper men at 5:30.

"All I have to say that this is a very warm day," was his response to requests for a statement. He was asked for an expression on the quoted views of some of his lieutenants who are threatening war on the state organization if it does not support Elkin for the Quay vacancy. The declaration of Deputy Attorney General Fred W. Fleitz who is quoted as saying, "If they do not recognize Elkin in this deal and consider him, I am ready to cut loose from the organization and

RIVAL ARMIES CLASH TWICE

Russians Claim Double Victory in South Manchuria.

TWO CHIEFS SLAIN

Cossacks Lose Officers—Japanese Said to Have Suffered Heavily.

STOESSEL SENDS IN REPORT

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

CHEFOO, June 7.—(10:45 a. m.)—The correspondent of the Associated Press at Tengchow cables that there was firing at Port Arthur last night, beginning at 11:30 o'clock and continuing for several hours.

A junk, arriving during the night from Dalny, reports that there was heavy firing all day yesterday in the vicinity of Port Arthur. When the junk left Dalny Monday morning all was quiet there. The arrivals on the junk deny the story of the sinking of a Japanese ship off Talienwan.

Liao-Yang, June 6.—Details have been received here of two smart outpost fights, one at Liao-Tung and the other in southern Manchuria. The former occurred in the morning of June 3, at Yan-Tsi-Antur, east of Wafang-Kau, 25 miles above Kinchau. The Russian force consisted of an infantry regiment, some artillery, several companies of Cossacks and a squad of dragoons. The enemy was discovered in the valley of Pwy-Tai-Antuo. The Russians brought up a battery, opened fire and cleared the Japanese out of the valley. Then the Russian guns were moved to a more favorable position.

The Japanese, taking advantage of this, fired a few shells. The Russian losses were Col. Sereda and 17 men wounded. Both sides retained their positions.

The other fight was between Major General Mistchenko's Cossacks and the Japanese advance posts along the river Kolendzy, north of Takushan. It lasted from the evening of June 3 till late the following day.

Russians Forced to Retreat.

A company of Cossacks tried to cut off a detachment of Japanese posted on the heights at Ladzkapudzy, but the enemy brought up reinforcements and the Russians were reinforced by five companies of Cossacks. Finally 3,000 Japanese were engaged, including artillery. The Cossacks repeatedly drove the enemy from their intrenchments. In one case, the Japanese fled across the river, but returned with more reinforcements, and the Russians drew off. The Cossack commander, Col. Strakiff, was killed and two officers and nine men were wounded. The Cossacks carried the body of their commander to Siu Yen.

Another Japanese army is landing on the eastern coast as a counterweight to the Russian advance from Dzhitzo, southward upon General Oku's army.

The Japanese have seemingly given up the idea of attacking Liao-Yang, if they ever entertained such a plan. The rainy season, which is expected to be in in two or three weeks, would, it is considered here, render an advance to Liao-Yang impossible.

Heavy Naval Loss Reported.

Meanwhile the Cossacks are keeping in touch with the Japanese outposts. Another force is watching General Kuroki's right wing north of the Yalu river. The health of the troops is remarkable everywhere. It is persistently reported here that the Port Arthur squadron made a sortie shortly before dawn Saturday, with the torpedo boat destroyers leading, and found the Japanese fleet quite unsuspecting the presence of hostile warships, with the result that four of the Japanese ships were sunk during the attack. This report has not been confirmed.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 6.—General Kuropatkin telegraphs to the emperor under date of June 6, as follows:

Fuller reports give particulars of the attachment near Wafengkau station May 30. A detachment of Russian cavalry, consisting of dragoons, Cossacks and mounted chasseurs with a battery, on their way from Vahanlen, were informed that two companies of the frontier guards were engaged with the enemy occupying a position near the village of Yondiatun.

Rout for Japanese.

A portion of our cavalry advanced toward Wafengkau while two squadrons of dragoons were sent to support the frontier guard and one company of chasseurs was sent to protect and reconnoiter on our right flank in the valley of Pochau. After accomplishing this mission, the chasseurs and a company of Cossacks formed the right flank of our position.

Toward 3 o'clock the enemy began to debouch in considerable force from Lutsiatun with the object of attacking our advance line. Two companies of Siberian Cossacks crossed the railway in front of the cavalry and attacked a squadron of the Japanese advance guard, almost entirely destroying it in a hand-to-hand fight.

They afterward encountered the fire of Japanese infantry. Two squadrons of our cavalry and a battery of machine guns hurried up, and when retiring, drew after them a second squadron of Japanese cavalry. This squadron followed until it came in contact with a detachment of chasseurs, who succeeded in firing eight volleys at a fixed range into the squadron, which then fell back, having suffered considerable loss.

Russians Feared Numbers.

While retreating to the left the Japanese squadron came under the fire of a company of the frontier guard, which had advanced, and the squadron retired in disorder. Our dragoons came up at this moment, but, owing to the topographical conditions, they could not participate as part of our front, but fired on the enemy from the heights north of Lutsiatun.

Discovering our endeavors to turn their left, the Japanese retired on a second position. Our battery got into position and opened a successful fire on the Japanese, by infantry and machine guns. Meanwhile, a movement of the enemy's infantry toward Lutsiatun was observed and subsequently, about 2 p. m., dense lines of infantry were seen occupying the crest of the heights which had ben previously occupied by dragoons.

Our losses were Lieut. Von Meyer, seriously wounded: Lieut. Brandt, slightly wounded; three men killed and 42 wounded; 11 separate reports found on the body of a Japanese non-commissioned officer, that the Fourteenth dragoons alone lost 70 men.

Our Cossacks were fired upon by Japanese infantry, occupying a fortified position on the heights near the villages of Khetzlapudza, 18 miles from Fung-Wang-Cheng. At the outset the Japanese attempted to advance across the valley of Kouilindzypho, but were stopped by the accurate fire from our field guns, which the Cossacks had succeeded in bringing into position.

The Cossacks dismounted, and, with the aid of reinforcements and the fire of two guns, forced the Japanese to abandon their position and retire under cover of their supports. The engagement lasted from 1 p. m. until 6 p. m.

On the Japanese side six companies took part, four having arrived as reinforcements. The entrenchments of the enemy were constructed and perfectly masked.

Our cavalry worked the guns admirably. Their fire contributed principally to our success. Our losses were the gallant Cossack Chief Strukin, killed; two officers slightly wounded and one bruised. The Japanese losses were not ascertained, except that they were much larger than ours.

Stoessel Reports.

The minister of war has received a dispatch from Lieut.-Gen. Zilinsky, chief-of-staff to Gen. Kuropatkin, dated June 3, in which he summarizes a written account by Gen. Stoessel of events preceding the battle of Kinchau. The report, which takes affairs only to May 21, follows:

The situation May 21 appears to have been that the Japanese army had arrived before Mount Sampson, but had not begun the attack on the town of Kinchau, which was occupied by 20,000 men.

The enemy had occupied Kerr peninsula and had sent large lighters to Khumeza bay. These, however, had been obliged to retire owing to the fire of our artillery. Our troops occupied positions on the southern shores of Khumeza bay, at Tallenwan, at Nankuenling station, at Dalmy and on all the bays. The enemy's squadron blockaded the entire coast and fired heavily sometimes upon one bay, sometimes upon another.

There was a heavy bombardment of Port Arthur the night of May 19, in which one soldier was killed and four wounded. The Japanese attempted a landing at Kerr bay, but were repulsed May 14, losing one cruiser, which sunk.

Japanese columns began the advance southward on May 15 by two routes, marching from Sanshilipu, north of Kinchau and Kotsiatan. Moving, as they did, in loose order, they suffered several losses from our infantry fire. The Kotsiatan column also came under our infantry fire, which inflicted heavy losses.

As the enemy's advance developed, we perceived that it consisted of 24 batteries of artillery and 24 battalions. In view of the enemy's superiority, our detachments began to retire. Gen. Stoessel speaks in the highest praise of the officers and men participating.

Japanese Approach.

A force composed of Cossacks and chasseurs occupied the heights north of Kinchau the morning of May 17, and isolated bodies of the enemy began to appear on the mountains. May 18 two companies of Japanese infantry attacked 100 of our Cossacks on the western slope of Mount Sampson, but were repulsed.

Our intelligence showed that the whole Japanese army north of Sanshilipu were composed of 30,000 infantry and 1,500 cavalry. Our losses between May 5 and 21 were 10 officers and 1,800 men.

The Russo-Japanese word and phrase books for use upon Japanese prisoners showed that these troops had evidently been long destined for operations in front of Port Arthur, as the books were specially adapted to use in and about Port Arthur and Dalny.

The government has no advices of a sortie having been made from Port Arthur by the Russian squadron resulting in the sinking of four Japanese ships.

The increased reticence and increased activity of the general staff might presage important developments from the seat of war. They neither affirm nor deny the report that Gen. Baron Stakelberg is moving south. The story about carrier pigeons bringing news from Port Arthur to Niuchwang and Chefoo, however, evokes a denial.

The emperor has issued an edict mobilizing a portion of which is stationed in St. Petersburg and vicinity. Gen. Nelndorff will command. This edict will be followed by a mobilization of the Fifth and Sixth army corps of the Volga region.

Delayed by Railroad.

Probably nearly a month will elapse before these corps are ready to start. In the meantime the Siberian railroad will be taxed to its utmost capacity in taking out the Tenth and Seventeenth corps, now moving.

Russia has given formal adherance to the khedival decree referring to the finances of Egypt, attached to the Anglo-French agreement. Her adherence to it had previously been announced, but it was not actually effected until the end of last week.

Members of what is known as the war party are attempting to use the assault perpetrated on Foreign Minister Lamsdorff by the paranoic prince, Dolgourky, last week to render Count Lamsdorff's position untenable.

Lamsdorff's Successor.

With this end in view they are helping to spread exaggerated accounts of the incident. There is no reason at present to believe that they will succeed, but as a result of their propaganda, gossips are already busy talking of Count Lamsdorff's prospective retirement and the names of his possible successor. M. Javolsky, Russian minister to Denmark, who has frequently been mentioned in the past in the same connection; M. Zinovieff, ambassador of Russia at Constantinople, who is now in this city; M. Muravieff, the minister of justice and even Viceroy Alexieff are discussed in diplomatic circles. Count Lamsdorff's retirement at the present time would be considered little short of a disaster for Russia.

The Novoe Vremya today discusses quite seriously the report that the United States intends to cede the Philippine islands to Japan and argues that the farseeing Yankee, anticipating the inevitable future conflict with Japan, prefers to sell the islands instead of defending them, having thereby learned Russia's lesson of the present war, namely the difficulty of holding territory so far from the base.

The military attache of a first-class power has telegraphed here that Gen. Kuropatkin's headquarters' staff has moved 40 miles south of Liao-Yang, to a point between Hai-Chang and Dashitzalo. Kuropatkin's move is considered to possibly foreshadow severe fighting in the northern part of the Liao-Tung peninsula, but it is a mistake to assume that his action involves a change in the position of the Russian main army, which, according to the best information, remains at Liao-Yang.

BALTIMORE, June 6.—Jesse Baker, a former bookkeeper in the National Howard bank of this city, who was arrested last week, pleaded guilty in the United States district court today to the embezzlement of about $12,000 of the bank's funds and was sentenced to five years in jail by Judge Morris.

SCHOOL BOARDS WERE ORGANIZED

But Deadlocks Are on in Several of Them and More Meetings Must Be Held.

TROUBLES OF MANY KINDS

Many of the boards of directors in the Pittsburgh public schools held meetings and tried to organize and elect principals and teachers last evening. A few failed to organize, others deadlocked on the election of principals, while in one or two more the personality of competing teachers prevented an agreement.

The Mt. Albion sub-district, Eighteenth ward, fought over the principalship again last night. The board organized by electing Archibald M. Miller, president; John H. Maloney, secretary, and Henry Dengel, treasurer. The board is a Citizens party body and two janitors were changed, the result, it is said, of some of the work at the last election. Nathan Moreland, janitor of the McCleary school, was dismissed and Wyman Davis elected in his place. Mrs. Prettyman was dismissed as janitor of the Sunnyside school and Mrs. Harrison was elected.

The deadlock came on the principal. Two years ago, after 347 ballots, Miss Rose McCleary was defeated and William A. Proudfit elected. At that time Miss Jennie Martin, assistant principal, had many friends on the board and last night, it appeared, she still held them. Twelve ballots were taken and each gave three votes for Prof. Proudfit and three for Miss Martin.

The St. Clair sub-district, Twenty-seventh ward, elected F. M. Colwell, president and John A. Carbon, secretary. There was a deadlock on treasurer. The old teachers were re-elected.

Bad Deadlock in Lawrence District.

The Lawrence sub-district board, Fifteenth ward, had a deadlock. At midnight the president and janitor had been elected, but the members refused to announce the names until the board had been completely organized. It was admitted that a deadlock was on. The chief fight is over the election of the principal. Prof. T. S. McCandless is said to be seeking a re-election, but some of the members favor him only for a one-year term, while others are opposed to him entirely. The present secretary and treasurer are also seeking a re-election, but have opposition.

The Thaddeus Stevens sub-district board, Thirty-sixth ward, elected William P. Byers, president; Andrew J. Srieb secretary, and the West End Savings Bank and Trust Company, treasurer. William M. McCullough was re-elected principal and Mary E. Rogers, assistant. The teachers elected are: Ida M. Garbart, Margaret M. Allen, Emma O. Kiefer, Alfa Morris, S. J. Campbell, Gertrude Reed, Della M. Vaughan, Edna McCollough, Sarah Fording, Mina Johnson and Annie R. Mitchell.

Were Voting at Midnight.

The Homewood sub-district, Twenty-first ward, elected Robert McMullan, president, and Charles M. McConagley, secretary. At midnight the board was voting for treasurer, with poor prospects of coming to a choice.

The Monongahela sub-district, Thirty-third ward, elected John Nolan president; W. B. Stoffer, secretary, and John Wallace, treasurer. The election of teachers and janitor was deferred until the next meeting.

The Lucky sub-district, Thirty-fifth ward, elected W. H. McKenzie president, H. H. Weedon, secretary, and the West End Savings Bank and Trust Company, treasurer. A. C. McClean was re-elected principal and Mrs. Nannie E. Benn and Miss Eva F. Angast, assistants. The election of teachers was postponed until the next meeting.

In the Moorhead sub-district, Eleventh ward, Dr. A. M. Stevenson was elected president, Otto H. Wienkoski secretary, and Welsh Spoil, treasurer. Miss Nannie Mackrell was re-elected principal for three years and all the teachers were retained.

The school board of the Duquesne sub-district, First ward, organized. The officers elected are: Peter Schuette, president; Robert A. Foley, secretary, and George S. Fleming, treasurer. There is one new member, W. J. Conley, who takes the place of Fire Chief Peter Snyder. The election of teachers resulted as follows: Prof. M. J. McMahon, principal; Annie E. Powers, Kate H. Dugan, Eliza Langan, Edna Keyser and Jean C. Bryce. Miss Keyser is a new teacher, taking the place of Miss Kate Donahoe. The latter was a candidate and was well recommended, but she had dropped her name.

The board of the Grant sub-district elected Dr. William H. McKelvy, president; C. H. Douglass, secretary, and the Western Savings and Deposit bank, treasurer. B. C. Reynolds was the new member of the board. A vacancy caused by the retirement of Anthony Fugassi was filled by electing Walter S. McChesney. Miss M. J. Graham was elected principal and Miss Belle J. Murry assistant principal, each for three years. Miss Elizabeth R. Stoner was elected physical director. The old corps of teachers was retained for another year.

The Ralston sub-district board, Ninth ward, organized as follows: President, Charles Shafer; secretary, William Knorr, and treasurer, John Coll. John Bannon was elected janitor. The election of teachers was held over until the next meeting. Edward Sweeney was elected to the central board of education.

The Forbes sub-district board, Sixth ward, elected Evan Jones president and Randolph Wagner secretary. The election of a treasurer was postponed. Miss Jennie E. Simpson was re-elected principal and Miss Sarah McKinley assistant principal, each for three years. The old corps of teachers was re-elected.

The election in the Franklin sub-district, Seventh and Eighth wards, resulted in the choice of George P. Letsche as president, Henry L. Angloch secretary, and the Mercantile Trust Company treasurer. Prof. George W. Kratz was re-elected principal and the old teachers are retained.

The Morse sub-district, Twenty-fifth ward, elected John S. Coates president, John McKain secretary and H. W. Beekman, Jr., treasurer. Teachers will be elected at the next meeting.

On the Allegheny Side.

Another meeting of the Fifth ward (Allegheny) school board, which is deadlocked over the election of a principal, was held last evening. While there was no election possible it was announced that the matter would be amicably settled before the meeting of the board of school controllers tonight.

The Seventh ward school board, Allegheny, has re-elected Edward P. Johnston principal. The following are the teachers elected: Pauline M. Mollis, Gertrude Cooper, Lillian Boschart, Jessie Hutchinson, Lida Campbell, Elizabeth Fairley, Margaret Hamilton, Frances Karns, Clara Carlisle, May Kerr, Sadie Cren, Naomi Donahey, Stella Eber, Ida M. Gilley, Gertrude Helming, Minnie Landinger, Mary Glemser, Rosa Walker, Minnie Link, Eva Fielding and Matilda Gordon. The school's annual picnic will be at Calhoun park on Friday, June 24.

The Homestead school board organized by electing David Rogers president, J. W. Williams was chosen secretary and C. W. Ashley solicitor. The entire corps of teachers was re-elected.

In the Suburbs.

The Esplen school board met and elected the following: J. L. Sither, Grove City, principal; teachers, Cora B. Kirkpatrick, Alice Benning, Birgetta Dunn, Helen D. Learon, Nellie D. Lawson, Gertrude S. Cannell, Jennie B. Beaver, Ora Weed and Belle Allison. Harriett Arras was elected to assistitute and J. H. Horner music teacher.

At the reorganization meetings of the Bellevue school board John M. Probon was elected president and Truman S. Morgan secretary. Prof. C. T. Wilson was re-elected superintendent of schools and Prof. George R. Johnston principal of the High school. Two teachers, Miss Effie M. Sloan and Miss Ava Roberts, were re-elected for the High school. Fourteen teachers were elected, these four re-elected: Mrs. Sarah E. Wallace, Miss Eva Howe, Rhodock, Miss Anna Ladesr, Wellsburg, W. Va., and Miss Anna Barr, Bellevue.

At a meeting of the Ben Avon school board Dr. W. F. Harper was re-elected president, George Alexander secretary and the First National bank of Pittsburgh treasurer. Miss Rachael D. Watt and Miss Carrie Alston were re-elected teachers. The principal to succeed Prof. H. W. Bennett, who has resigned, and one more teacher will be elected next Monday evening.

MEN SLEPT LAST NIGHT AT BOTTOM OF THE SEA

They Are Officers and Crew of Submarine Boat Fulton, Now Undergoing Final Test. Dined on Old Ocean's Floor.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEWPORT, R. I., June 6.—The final tests in the submarine boat trials were begun tonight, when the Holland type submarine torpedo boat Fulton was taken to a point between Point Judith and Narragansett pier and at 8:30 sunk to the bottom of the bay. Unless plans miscarry, she will remain there for 12 hours. When the submarine arises to the surface tomorrow morning she will have a full speed surface run, which will conclude her trials.

On board the Fulton are Naval Constructor J. J. Woodward, Lieut. Charles P. Nelson of the submarine torpedo boat Porpoise, representing the United States navy; Capt. F. Y. Cable, Lawrence J. Sjeir and a crew of eight men. A supply of food was taken aboard and it will be cooked on electric stoves.

The trials today began early in the forenoon. The Fulton was taken to a point off Point Judith and from there went submerged through a ten-mile course. The periscope was used successfully, the submarine coming to the surface directly between two targets off Block Island, which marked the end of the course. The ten miles were covered in one hour and twenty minutes.

On the supposition that the periscope had been injured, the Fulton was again submerged, the intention being to attack imaginary warships, rising to the surface from time to time to take observations from the conning tower. Officers of the trial board say the tests were entirely successful.

itors and printers of the Daily Record and City Marshal O'Connell, and put them in the bull pen, when Major Naylor sent guards to aid in quelling the disturbance on Fourth street.

When the uniformed men swung into Fourth street they were fired on from houses on both sides of the street. They returned the fire and raced on at a double quick until they were near the miners' union hall. At that point the mob scattered and as the soldiers halted, several shots weer fired at them from the windows of the hall.

The doors of the building had been left open and a dozen guardsmen fired into the hall as fast as they could work their rifles. After a few volleys the order to take the place by assault was given and they jumped in.

The soldiers stormed the building and from last accounts shot at least seven unionists. The remainder fled, blood streaming from their wounds. The soldiers who were unhurt pursued and arrested a number of the fleeing men and continued far into the night to scour the country in search of men supposed to have been in union hall at the time of the assault on the troops.

The detail of guardsmen was in command of Captain Harry C. Moore of Cripple Creek.

DENVER, COL., June 6.—"No request has been made on me for troops from Teller county officers, and there will be nothing done in the way of ordering out the guard until the legal demand is made," said Lieut.-Gov. Haggott, who is the acting governor of the state while Gov. Peabody is in St. Louis. "I will not anticipate the request in any way and not until I am officially advised that the authorities cannot deal with the situation will any troops be sent to Teller county to investigate the situation there."

INDEPENDENTS WILL DEMAND REDUCTION

Amalgamated Will Oppose Plan of Sheet Mill Men—Bar Iron Conference Today.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 6.—The independent sheet mill operators will demand that the Amalgamated association accept the 10 per cent reduction which the manufacturers demanded six weeks ago. At that time there was a compromise of 8 per cent reduction, making 18 per cent which the men had accepted from the scale as originally drafted last year. At the Cleveland convention the scale committee cut off an additional 8 per cent and made the scale lower by 10 per cent than it was last year. The conference committee will fight the demands of the manufacturers.

The bar iron conference, which will begin at Cambridge Springs, will be attended by representatives of two companies at least, the Republic Iron and Steel Company and the American Car and Foundry Company.

KILLED CHILDREN; THEN EMBALMED BODIES

New Jersey Undertaker Discovered at Awful Work in Time to Save One Life.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ROSELLE, N. J., June 6.—After killing three of his children and wounding the fourth, Joseph M. Pouch, at one time an undertaker, today shot and killed himself.

Pouch lived in a cottage with his children. Yesterday he shot two of them and embalmed their bodies. He took the other two to an upper room with him, after mailing a warning to County Physician Wescott, who advised the police.

When the officers knocked at the door of the Pouch cottage today, Pouch shot and killed his little daughter and wounded his remaining son. He then shot himself and died as the police forced an entrance. The boy will recover.

CADETS MUST GO.

Police Will Prevent Introduction of New York's Infamous System.

Acting Superintendent of Police Wallace and Superintendent of Detectives McQuaide are making a combined effort to prevent the introduction of the infamous "cadet" system into this city. Detective Edward McGough reported that he had seen about 20 Hebrew men and women whom he knew to be habitues of disorderly houses, arrive here yesterday.

Following this Wallace ordered five disorderly houses conducted by Hebrews in the vicinity of Water and Grant streets, to close and sold the proprietresses that they must leave the city at once.

Last night Detectives Kelly and Riley went sent out to arrest a number of men said to be interested in these places. They locked one, Abe Goldstein, of 1213 Gibson street, and Abe Shefman of 106 Washington street. They had hardly been placed behind the bars when "Musty" Price and others from the Seventh ward appeared and cash forfeits of $500 each were put up for the appearance of the prisoners at this morning's hearing.

start a fight," was read to Elkin, but he only mopped the sweat from his face and smiled. Then the following from one of his friends was read to him:

"The leaders are in a ticklish position," he said, after he had secured a promise that his name be not used. "They don't want Elkin, but if they don't take him it will mean the biggest factional fight ever known in Pennsylvania Republican politics, and probably the party's disruption. If they select any one of the other candidates there will surely be trouble."

Rumors of Revolt.

"That's very positive," was Elkin's reply to this outburst. Then his jaws came together, and calling Senator Ben Focht, he left the newspaper circle.

"I will positively make no statement tonight," he said.

All sorts of rumors as to Elkin's intentions are afloat. His backers are urging him to "raise the fiery cross" and test steel with Penrose and Durham. This talk of revolution is not helping Elkin and it is strange that he permits it. Knowing, as he does, that the leaders desire him to remain on the state ticket, he could silence his revolutionary followers with a word. That word he has not spoken.

Commissioner Durham is not impressed with the argument of the Elkin people, who claim that the senatorial vacancy should go to "the country." He, no doubt, realizes that Pattison had a majority of about 3,000 over Pennypacker, outside of Philadelphia, and Allegheny. On this subject he commented as follows:

"The talk of a combination between the two cities is all bosh. I never thought of such a thing. What would the country do without the cities when it comes to electing tickets. The cities need the country districts and the country requires the help of the cities."

Would Cement the Party.

Dr. A. J. Barchfeld, discussing the senatorship, said:

"If the senatorship goes to Pittsburgh it will cement the party there that hereafter in all ordinary elections the county will give a Republican majority of 60,000 and a majority of 75,000 in presidential years."

James P. McNichol, who has long been one of Mr. Durham's close political friends, did not participate in today's conference. His absence was commented upon by the Elkin people who assert that McNichol favors their candidate.

There will be more conferences tomorrow, but it may be two or three days before the question is finally adjusted. All of the leaders favor quick action and are anxious to get in touch with party sentiment throughout the state.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

GOVERNOR UNDECIDED ABOUT SENATORSHIP

Consults Attorney General Carson Whether to Appoint or Call Extra Session.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, June 6.—Gov. Pennypacker spent a half hour with Attorney General Carson this afternoon discussing the senatorial vacancy, without reaching a decision as to whether it shall be filled by appointment or by an extra session of the legislature.

"I am considering the question broadly," said the governor after leaving the attorney general. "When I reach a conclusion, then I shall announce it. A good way is to learn all you can, then think it out and try to do what you think is right."

The governor also said that he had asked Mr. Carson for his "thought" on the subject and was uncertain as to whether the attorney general would give him a verbal or written opinion. He admitted that he was consulting a lawyer, politicians and others, including his newspaper friends and after he has received all their "thoughts" he will decide what he shall do.

"He declined to discuss the reports that he told A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, that he would appoint either Richard R. Quay or ex-Senator J. Donald Cameron, or that he would call an extra session of the new legislature, to be held next December, to fill the vacancy."

The governor talked more freely today on this question than he has at any time since the vacancy occurred, but after all he said nothing more than that he was still considering it and that he would be glad to hear the views of any person who is interested enough to give them.

He admitted having received letters from several persons, including ex-Representative John H. Fow of Philadelphia, advising as to how the vacancy can be filled. Mr. Fow suggests that an extra session may be held after the next legislature has been elected or the governor may appoint and issue a proclamation calling the attention of the legislature to the fact that the vacancy has been filled by appointment.

The church has 23 stations in foreign fields, 251 missions or "out stations," 95 missionaries, 22 native missionaries, 542 native helpers and 26 churches, with 4,932 communicants. The native converts contributed $8,888 for mission work during the year.

PEABODY UPHELD BY HIGH COURT

Supreme Justices Declare That Moyer Must Remain in Hands of Militia.

MINERS' CONTENTIONS ABSURD

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

DENVER, June 6.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, is properly held a military prisoner at Telluride by order of Gov. James H. Peabody. That was decided today in an opinion handed down by the state supreme court refusing the application for a writ of habeas corpus.

There was but one dissenting voice to the opinion, that of Justice Steel. By its action the court has decided that the governor had the authority to declare martial law in San Miguel county, to imprison Moyer and others, to suspend the writ of habeas corpus and to ignore the local courts.

The opinion of the court was given by Chief Justice Gabbert. Its main points are as follows:

The governor has sole power to determine when a state of insurrection exists in any county in the state. The courts have no power to interfere with his exercise of this prerogative.

The governor has the right to use the military forces of the state to suppress insurrection. He also has the power to order the imprisonment and the killing of insurrectionists if, in his opinion, that extremity is necessary.

He can detain military prisoners until he decides that the insurrection is quelled. The courts of the state have no right to interfere with or the military authorities and their handling of prisoners. They have no power to attempt to discharge military prisoners.

The contention of the appellant that the military prisoners should be turned over to the civil authorities is characterized by the court as absurd.

The question which the court was asked to decide was of such vast importance to the state that seven prominent lawyers were asked as advisory counsel to submit opinions.

Charles Hughes, one of these, it is said did not send in any opinion. The other six split evenly. Those who sustained the position of the governor were Attorney General Goddard, Platt Rogers and A. C. Field. Former Gov. Charles S. Thomas, Leroy Stevick and Harvey Riddle dissented from the opinion of the court.

TELLURIDE, COL., June 6.—O. A. Floaten, one of the proprietors of the People's Supply store; M. J. Sullivan, secretary of the local miners' union and Tom Rolla, a bartender, who have been advised by the military authorities to leave San Miguel county, have retained Congressman H. M. Hogg as counsel, and, acting under his advice, have decided to remain here until forced to leave. The following telegram has been sent to President Roosevelt at Washington to which no reply has yet been received:

Have been ordered to leave our homes by June 7, but do not intend to go. We ask citizens of the United States demand your protection under the constitutional rights. The civil courts would protect us, but they are powerless. The governor will not protect us. (Signed)

TAYLOR MURDER CASE.

Quigley and La Belle Woman, Alleged Assassins, Are Given a Hearing.

CANTON, O., June 6.—(Special.)—The preliminary hearing of Richard Quigley and Tina LaBelle upon the charge of assassinating George H. Taylor, the merchant who was shot shortly after midnight May 21 in his store, was continued yesterday. The state closed its case with evidence to show that Quigley had seen and recognized the corpse and had attempted to notify William Taylor of Pittsburgh of his brother's death. Quigley, it is claimed, afterward stated to William and George Taylor that he knew nothing of the crime until he read the newspaper reports Sunday morning.

Failing to carry a motion to have his clients released upon the grounds that no case had been established against them, Attorney Krichbaum called witnesses to prove a partial alibi. The hearing adjourned until Tuesday when arguments will be heard.

MET VIOLENT DEATHS.

Boy Drowned, Miner Killed and Slav Mangled by Train.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 6.—(Special.)—Three Washington county residents met violent deaths today. Harry Iams, aged 13, of California, was drowned in the Monongahela river, near the Normal school grounds. The body was recovered.

James Jones, a negro coal miner, while operating a cutting machine at the McGovern mines this afternoon was caught in the machinery and so badly injured that he died two hours later.

SCHOOL ANNEX FINISHED.

After Four Years in Course of Construction High School Addition Completed.

The High school committee of the Allegheny board of school controllers last night agreed to take formal possession of the new High school annex. The bills of Contractor H. A. Kunze, amounting to $168,000 were approved. At the meeting of the board tonight the action will be made final.

The committee last night reconsidered its action of the last meeting regarding the bill of Architect Osterling, and it was laid over until the next regular meeting. President David B. Oliver objected to paying $17,000 to the architect, and it is expected that several thousand dollars will be taken off the amount before the bill is paid.

The board will meet tonight, for the first time, in the new assembly hall of the annex. It will be a joint meeting with the teachers of all the wards to consider text books for the coming year.

JAPAN REFUSES TO CASH AMERICAN ARMY VOUCHERS

WASHINGTON, June 6.—A circular has been issued by Maj.-Gen. Wade, commanding the Philippine division, stating that information has been received at Manila from the depot quartermaster at Nagasaki, Japan, saying that the banks at Nagasaki refuse to cash the pay vouchers of the officers of the army. It is not stated why this action is taken.

Garbage Fight Over.

At a special meeting of Allegheny select council last night the report of the conference committee, recommending that the city garbage contract be let for a period of two years, was adopted. The measure in its amended form will go to the common branch next week for final passage. This settles a wrangle that has continued for some time.

Will Increase Salaries.

The finance committee of Allegheny councils last night favorably recommended an ordinance providing for an increase in the salaries of the clerk in the public safety department and the assistant chief clerk in the office of register of deeds. Both salaries are to be increased from $80 per month to $1,500 per year.

CAMPAIGN OPENS AT WILMINGTON

Secretary Shaw Hurls First Shot of National Contest in Delaware.

FORECASTS OPPONENTS' CRY

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WILMINGTON, DEL., June 6.—The opening meeting of the Republican national campaign was held here tonight in the opera house under the auspices of the Roosevelt Workingmen's club of Delaware, an organization formed recently. President Crozier made a speech introducing Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, who spoke at considerable length on the issues of the campaign. He said in part:

The Republican party is not a party of sympathy, but of encouragement. Instead of posing as a benevolent institution, it represents policies which reduce the occasion for almsgiving to the minimum. Its bounty is opportunity.

The Democratic party, on the contrary, never fails to express sympathy for the overburdened; but its policies, when put in operation, never fail to produce conditions which incite sympathy. When the products of labor find ready sale and labor finds correspondingly ready employment, then our opponents are voiceless in their protestations of sympathy for the over-taxed and overburdened people. They never congratulate; they always sympathize. They never rejoice; they always bemoan. They seldom cheer except at the prospect of something worse.

I am neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, but I venture the opinion that at least one-half of the opponents' argument during the coming campaign will be directed against alleged unreasonable living expenses. My present purpose will be served by showing that universal employment at reasonable wages, even in the face of high-priced living expenses, is preferable to employment for only a portion of our people, though at the same wage and at much reduced living expenses. Catch the thought. Employment for all our people at a given wage, with living expenses high, is preferable to employment for only one-half our people with living expenses however cheap.

This country has never seen and never will see suffering at a time when labor finds ready and constant employment, whatever the price of food and clothes. And the converse of this is also true. This country always has been and always will be filled with suffering whenever labor falls of employment, however cheap may be food and clothes. I can show that the happiness of the wage-earner is dependent upon high-priced farm products, and I can also demonstrate that the prosperity of the farmer is dependent upon the ready and constant employment of the wage-earner.

Phil Armour once said to me: "I got rich when comparatively a young man by watching the coal and iron miners. Whenever they were employed I partook every day. I could get my hands on. My partner would say, 'Phil, you will break us up.' I would answer, 'No, they are working now.' But when I saw the coal and iron workers quit, I sold every dam we had."

Higher wages mean more and better food for the wage-earner, more and better clothes for his family, a better roof for the home, and therefore a better market for the farmer. Higher prices for cattle and corn mean more lumber for farm buildings, more barbed wire for fences, more and better clothes for a happier family, more and better furniture for the home, better carpets, better carriages and more and better implements of agriculture, and therefore a better market for the wage-earner.

Whenever the Republican party is in power and its policies are in operation, when public buildings are being erected, when rivers and harbors are being dredged, when railroads are being graded and widened and double-tracked, when canals are being dug, and when the home market is protected in the interest of the American producer, artisan and farmer, then are all men fed and all families clothed. But may the good Lord deliver us from another period when living expenses are cheap.

CONVENTION OF GERMAN CATHOLIC SOCIETIES

State Organization Meets at Altoona—Message from Coadjutor Bishop Canevin.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ALTOONA, June 6.—The eleventh annual convention of the combined German Roman Catholic societies of Pennsylvania opened here this afternoon with prayer by Rev. J. Otton of Sharpsville, spiritual director of the organization.

State President Joseph H. Reiman of Pittsburgh made his report, giving the number of members as 15,000 and made a number of recommendations. Councilman George W. Kissins welcomed the 200 delegates to the city. Rev. Father D. Zwickert welcomed them to the parish. After approving the minutes of the Wilkesbarre convention, President Reiman appointed the various committees. Letters wishing the convention success and regretting their inability to attend were read from Coadjutor Bishop Regis Canevin of Pittsburgh and Bishop Hoban of Scranton. A telegram of good wishes was received from Anthony Matre of Cincinnati, national secretary of the federation of Catholic Societies of America. Twenty new societies were proposed for membership, the agitation committee being given credit for this work.

A reception was tendered the delegates tonight.

FREEHOLD LOSES FUNDS OF CITY

Bigelow's Bank in East End to Be Substituted as One of Depositories.

FRAUENHEIM MAKES PROTEST

The Freehold bank, of which ex-Senator William Flinn is a heavy stockholder, is to be dropped from the list of the four city depositories, and the Liberty National bank of the East End, of which Director Bigelow is a director, is to be substituted for the Freehold, according to the statement of a prominent officer of the city administration, who said yesterday that the finance committee of councils had been called to meet this afternoon for this specific purpose.

The other three banking institutions to be elected city depositories are the Farmers' Deposit National bank, the First National bank and the Allegheny National bank, all three now being depositories for the city funds. These four banks are to be elected for a term of four years, beginning February 1 next.

R. B. Ward, president of common council, is also a director of the Liberty National bank. Ward had been in California for a month and hurried home Sunday, a week or two earlier than he had been expected. The finance committee holds its regular monthly meeting this afternoon. Common council meets tonight and select council has been called to meet tomorrow afternoon.

Railroaded Through Councils.

It is claimed that the finance committee will elect the city depositories this afternoon and ask common council to approve its action tonight, and that select will take similar action tomorrow. Outside of the election of the depositories there is no important business for either the finance committee or common council to transact today. Notwithstanding this fact, unusual efforts have been made to secure quorums for both meetings today. Messengers were out all day yesterday notifying councilmen to attend, and in some instances telegrams were sent out of the city.

City Treasurer Frauenheim made a vigorous protest yesterday against the plan of the administration to confine the city's millions to four banks, and he strongly commended the ordinance favoring the distribution of the city's funds among the national banks of the Pittsburgh Clearing House association, the details of which plan were exclusively published in The Gazette yesterday. It is understood that this ordinance will be presented to councils today and will be explained to the finance committee this afternoon. Treasurer Frauenheim's statement was as follows:

I believe it is a mistake for the city to have only four banks as depositories. The city has at the present time $1,400,000 in each one of its depositories and is receiving 2 per cent interest on daily balances, and during the past year the amount on deposit in each bank, excepting for a very short period, was never under the million dollar mark. I favor making all the Pittsburgh Clearing House association banks depositories and limiting the amount of the city deposit in each bank to 50 per cent of the capital and surplus of the bank. This would be a good business method and should govern the question for the city.

A recent statement of City Treasurer Shoch of Philadelphia shows that on that day Philadelphia had $7,911,894 14 on deposit, distributed among 35 banks. You can readily see how much smaller the balance in each bank in Philadelphia was compared with Pittsburgh, where we have today $5,500,000 distributed among our four city depositories.

If the $7,000,000 bond issue for water filtration plant and hump removal be approved there is, in my mind, that much greater reason for increasing the number of city depositories. There are in Pittsburgh 18 national banks, members of the Clearing House association, and that would not be too many banks to have as city depositories.

Eleven Banks Eligible.

If the new ordinance became a law eleven national banks of the city would be beneficiaries. There are 18 banks in the Clearing House association, of which seven are excluded by the provision of the ordinance which limits the depositories to national banks having a capital and surplus of $1,500,000 or over. The Allegheny National bank, which is now one of the four city depositories, would be shut out by such an arrangement, as its capital and surplus is $1,100,000, or $400,000 short of the required amount. The eleven banks which would be eligible are the Bank of Pittsburgh, Exchange National bank, First National bank, Second National bank, Farmers Deposit National bank, Union National bank, Peoples National bank, Diamond National bank, Columbia National bank and the Mellon National bank.

The seven banks of the Clearing House association which would be barred are the Allegheny National bank, German National bank, National Bank of Western Pennsylvania, Commercial National bank, Fort Pitt National bank, Duquesne National bank and the Third National bank.

Each of the 11 banks would be entitled to a deposit amounting to 50 per cent of its capital and surplus. The heaviest gainers by this system would be the Bank of Pittsburgh, Farmers Deposit, Union National, Second National, Mellon National, First National, Monongahela and Peoples.

"The city depositories should be selected by competitive bids and the city should receive on its deposits not less than 3 per cent," said Controller Lorain. "It is absurd that the city should get only 2 per cent and, when it needs funds, that the same bank should loan the city money at 5 per cent. Formerly the city got 3 per cent and that is what it ought to get today on all deposits."

There was a report last night that the Freehold bank was making a fight through powerful political interests to be retained as a city depository, and that the administration had agreed to increase the number of depositories to include both the Freehold and the Liberty National. This, however, would require the passage of a new ordinance by councils, as the present ordinance limits the number of depositories to four. If such a move is made the finance committee will be prevented today from making any election.

FAYETTE COUNTY MEN FORM COAL COMPANY

New Million-Dollar Concern Will Develop West Virginia Tract of 9,617 Acres.

The capital stock is $1,000,000, and of this amount over half is already subscribed, mainly by Fayette county capitalists.

The company has secured 9,617 acres of coal land in Braxton county, W. Va. It is proposed to open up the coal and erect mining and coking plants of the most modern character.

W. H. Cochran of Dawson is one of the most largely interested and is mentioned as the probable president. Others interested include William Moor and B. S. Forsythe, Dawson; Barney O'Connor and R. J. Shepherd, New Haven; P. Buffano, the banker, Connellsville; A. K. Knotts, Uniontown, and N. J. Mapel, Morgantown, W. Va. John W. Bollean of Pittsburgh, who promoted the company, will also be a director.

Second Day of the Second Week of the Sweetser-Pembrook Stock.

Late arrivals yesterday making the variety now about as complete as on the first day this sale opened. It's a great sale, and no mistake. It's a great time for people who just love to save money on anything they buy. And it was an act of foresight when we bought so heavily the first week of the auction and sent our buyers over last week to be in at the close.

By way of hints this morning the following—

Investigate.

Five thousand yards of the following, and every yard from the Sweetser, Pembrook Co. auction—imported wash goods division, main aisle, West:

35c French Percales.....
35c Scotch Woven Madras.....
Compare them for styles, quality and less prices wherever you please..... } 12½c yd.

20c a yard Fancy Embroidered Swiss, fetching patterns..... 7c yd.

Any of These Blacks, 50c Yd.

Here is related a half dollar proposition in Black Dress Goods of Summer texture, that overtops any similar proposition we ever came across:

For 50c a yard buy $1.50 Lupin's Black Mistral, 44 inches wide.
For 50c a yard buy $1.00 fine Black London Twine, light weight, 44 inches wide.
For 50c a yard buy $1.00 silk and wool Black Crystal Eolienne.

Girls' Summer Dresses—of Linen.

Linen seems to have the call this season—the tots are proudly arrayed in linen, the young girls say it hasn't any equal for undress occasions, while the woman grown wear it for both morning and afternoon, even for the elaborate dress. The suits we mention below are of this favored material.

Girls' regulation dresses, Peter Thompson styles, plain and striped linens, white pique collars in blue, tan and gray, hand-embroidered emblems. When we tell you these were made especially to our order, you will know they are correct as to styles. Sizes 4 to 12 years—today just HALF OF REGULAR PRICES.

Girls' Naval Suits in tan and cadet blue linen, embroidered emblem on collar, sleeves and shield, sizes 6 to 14 years—$4.00 instead of $8.00.

Some Items of Furniture.

We have just received another lot of those splendid Davenport Beds—a stately and handsome article of furnishment when closed, a most capacious bed when opened. They are excellently made, covered in velour, tapestry and Spanish fabrikoid—prices $35.00, $37.50, $38.00, $40.00 and $45.00.

We have something in Box Couches that appeals to lovers of the practical—cedar lined, with dust-proof bottoms, and covered in plain denim. $15.00.

A special Rocker at $5.00 in Golden Oak and Imitation Mahogany wood seat, high back, built on lines of solid comfort and decidedly ornamental as well.

Japanese Screens, Japanese Porch Mats and Cushions.

These are Summery looking screens with frames of grill work and pretty Japanese matting panels. Light in weight and dainty as the skilled Japanese artisan can produce.

$1.00, $1.25, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, according to size and quality.

Japanese Porch Mats and Cushions, 5c, 18c, 25c, 45c and up to $2.00 each.

Wood Jacket Water Coolers.

Not unlike in appearance the old-fashioned wooden bucket that sat on the freshly scrubbed table filled with spring water. But the wooden "jacket" is more finely finished, lined inside with porcelain, and is one of the best preservers of ice on the market.

1½ gallons, $5.00. 5 gallons, $ 9.50.
2 gallons, $5.25. 6 gallons, $11.50.
4 gallons, $7.75. 8 gallons, $13.50.

The Glow Night Lamp.

Like a little candle shining in the dark, only brighter and steadier—burns 200 hours at a cost of 1 cent.

The best night lamp ever put on the market—splendid for the bedside table and in an invalid's room.

Utility Boxes.

Some people call them Vassar Boxes, because so many girls carry them away to school. Nothing like them for storing shirtwaists. The very name suggests roominess and capacity unlimited for all sorts of articles. $8.00 for a box measuring 22 inches wide by 4 feet 6 inches long, 18 inches deep, equipped with casters.

Other boxes at $2.75, $4.00, $4.75, $5.00, $6.00 and $7.00.

White Goods for Half.

People were here from different towns and from different States yesterday—and there were good reasons, very good, or they would not have traveled from Ohio and from West Virginia—even from Maryland.

Inducements like the following will fetch any woman a long ways—

15c and 20c white Dotted Swisses, and white Stripe Madras, and white India Linon, all in this sale for the little price of..... } 10c yd.

25c yd. Extra Fine White Stripe Madras.....
25c yd. Extra Fine White Leno Lawns.....

Tuesday, June 7, 1904.

The Gazette desires to call the attention of those of its readers who contemplate summer trips to the announcements of the many summer resort hotels published on page 14 of this issue.

A report of the naval board upon recent experiments with petroleum fuel calls attention to another point of strength inherent in this country. Fuel is a military necessity in these modern days when the engineer is "the man behind" military operations on land and sea. It is gratifying to know Uncle Sam has two strings to his bow, matchless coal fields and the most productive oil fields in the world. He has quite a bunch of the finest vessels afloat and, we believe, the best men to handle and man them. He has the fuel, too, solid and liquid and is in an excellent position to defend himself upon demand. He is never an aggressor who goes abroad seeking a quarrel.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow has explained the recent act affecting rural mail carriers so plainly there can be no mistaking its intent. The carriers may deliver to their patrons, on their routes, any merchandise they may be commissioned to procure. If it is mailable merchandise, postage must be paid. If not the carriage must be paid by the patron ordering the goods. No carrier will be permitted to act as an agent, to solicit orders or to sell for a merchant on commission. He can deliver papers to patrons upon which postage is paid, so there need be no interference with their regular delivery. If ordered by the patron he can deposit them in the postoffice and pay postage before taking them out.

Yesterday witnessed the quarterly "parade of the blind men" in the court house. Several constables were handed back their papers with orders to investigate certain reports from their bailiwicks and went away in distress. In general it may be said the returns were above the average, an indication that recent lashings from the district attorney's office are having a beneficial effect. It does seem a little odd that constables go to court without information affecting their districts that has reached the district attorney and in some cases has become the talk of the town. But it may be added that yesterday's proceedings reflected quite as severely upon the police as upon the constables, as the delinquencies were, for the greater part, within city limits. The places might have been closed by the police.

The baseball enthusiasts of New York, Chicago and Cincinnati need not yet congratulate themselves that in the pennant race Pittsburgh is not to be reckoned with. Our team is a little low in the race, to be sure, lower than it has been for several years, but President Dreyfuss is a fighter, and, with money as the weapon, he is endeavoring to give Pittsburgh a baseball team that will bring another pennant flag to the city. His purchase of another pitcher yesterday and his continued scouting for more talent proves that he is doing his best. It is a difficult matter to keep a body of athletes "on edge" for as many years as the Pittsburgh team has been kept. But if the pennant goes elsewhere this year it will be no cause for tears. Pittsburgh fans expect the "Pirates" to give a good account of themselves yet and that is all they ask.

New York now has the most stringent theater building law of any city in the world. Mayor McClellan having signed the McCall ordinance. The law requires that every theater built in the future must have a 14-foot court on both sides and in the rear and that no seat shall have more than six seats between it and an aisle on either side. This ordinance is one of the results of the Iroquois theater fire in Chicago. Theatrical managers say that it will have the effect of preventing the erection of any new theaters in New York, the value of the 14-foot court being so great as to eliminate all chances for profit. Of course the law does not affect theaters already built. Such a measure may seem drastic, but it is the duty of cities to protect their people in every possible way. If the theatrical managers are hurt, they must remember that some of their troubles have been brought the injury upon themselves by careless management and disregard of ordinary precautions of safety.

According to a Chicago telegram Mr. Hearst will get the Illinois delegates to the St. Louis convention. This is not because Illinois Democrats love Hearst or the principles he advocates, but is the result of a factional fight in Chicago between Mayor Harrison and ex-Mayor John P. Hopkins. The latter needed aid in the fight and he took in Hearst, promising him the national delegation as his share of the spoils of victory. The Harrison faction was defeated, and Hopkins has informed his friends throughout the state that the deal with Hearst must go through. They agreed, though admitting antagonism to Hearst, and the vote of Illinois is thus settled. Hopkins is making an effort to oust Harrison from control of the Chicago Democratic machine and from the position of national committeeman, and if he is able to deliver the delegates to Hearst he will have made a step in the direction of his political ambition, though Hearst will not be able to deliver any goods at St. Louis.

Kuropatkin's Advance.

Reports from Russian sources indicate a change in the policy of Gen. Kuropatkin, in line with news of a few days ago of the czar's commands. The Russian main army is said to be advancing toward the Liao-Tung peninsula, with the intent to relieve Port Arthur and, if possible, to crush Gen. Oku's army between the forces of Gens. Kuropatkin and Stoessel. This movement is courageous, to say the least. If it succeeds it will be a dark day for Japan; if it fails Russia can hardly recover from the blow.

Apparently Russia has learned something from the Japanese and one lesson is that victory cannot be won without sacrifice. The taking of Nan-Shan heights was costly to the Japanese, but it was ruinous to the Russians. It was a long step toward Port Arthur. The czar evidently reached the conclusion that with the same determination the Japanese would take Port Arthur long before the Baltic fleet could sail and the inevitable result would be the loss of an army of 30,000 and a valuable fleet. This appears to have led to a determination to sacrifice the 30,000 men, if necessary, in the effort to save Port Arthur.

That the czar does not expect to interrupt the Japanese plans without suffering serious losses is made plain by his edict mobilizing the first army corps. His plan appears to be to fight the Japanese to a standstill at any cost, and to keep the railroad busy forwarding more troops to fill the ranks. If that is really the Russian purpose, the world is destined to soon see the bloodiest fighting that has been witnessed for many years, probably since the American civil war. The Japanese have proven themselves capable strategists, good marksmen and determined fighters. They will not give up the advantage they have gained without a desperate struggle, and we do not believe the Siberian railroad can transport men to the front as rapidly as they will be killed or wounded if the fighting is pressed.

Gen. Kuroki is in position to attack the Russian left as Gen. Kuropatkin moves toward the south, and the Japanese troops landed from Taku-Shan to Pitsewo are all within easy striking distance. The Japanese dispositions have apparently been made with a view to meet precisely the movement which the Russians say is being made, and the Japanese plans have thus far been laid with care to embrace every essential element of success. Gen. Kuropatkin's advance may prove fatal, but, if so, the war will end sooner and that is a desirable result.

Good and Evil of Leisure.

In discussing the proposition of an eight-hour working day, the chief value of such a result is too often lost sight of by its advocates; that is, the value of leisure as an uplifting and educating agent when properly used. The shorter working day will be the chief question to be discussed by the International Congress of Miners at Paris, France, on August 8, to which President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America is a delegate. No one can or will quarrel with Mr. Mitchell on the question of the desirability of a shorter working day whenever industrial conditions warrant it. But industrial conditions, rather than an act of congress, must decide the question. Mr. Mitchell is too broad minded a leader, and too great a student of conditions as they exist, to fail to see that the trend of the times is toward industrial peace and an equitable division between capital and labor of the fruits of their united effort. The development cannot be forced more rapidly than conditions warrant, and an eight-hour law would retard rather than advance the desired end. That a shorter working day will come is inevitable, but it will come through natural laws, not statute laws.

What Mr. Mitchell and other labor leaders have confronting them is the necessity of leading their followers into the proper use of the leisure a shorter working day will give them. It can be made an uplifting influence and it can be made a degenerating influence. Leisure properly used is one of the greatest blessings, and leisure improperly occupied one of the greatest evils. There is no disguising the fact that a large share of the people find leisure irksome. They give their time to the saloon, or worse, lose self-respect and the respect of the community. These men should be taught the art of spending their leisure profitably by educating themselves and aiding in the education of their families. Otherwise the shorter working day would be a curse to the country rather than a blessing.

Our forefathers recognized the value of education in bringing the country to its full power, and the land is dotted with public schools. But these schools give only a groundwork for education. They teach the pupils to think and to look forward to genuine education and wisdom. The sons of workingmen are thus placed on the highway to better things for the future, but when they themselves become workingmen they must cultivate their studies or the common school has only served to teach them to read, to write and to cipher. If they continue to read and to think they prove themselves worthy of all the leisure that may come to them. They will become better citizens, and the whole world of opportunity will be open to them.

Everything has two sides. There are many workingmen who, by their unwillingness to work a minute overtime or even to spend a minute caring for their tools, give employers the feeling that they should have no shorter day. They never seem to think of the fact that the interest of their employer is their interest. He must profit by their labor in order to pay their wages, and to profit by their labor he must have full, honest service. His capital and his brains are working in their interest as well as his own. Life is co-operative in whatever position we may be placed. And the co-operation of capital and labor is what makes the wealth of a nation and its people.

These are questions that the workingmen should study well in their seeking for more leisure. The question will decide itself in good time, and the workingmen should prepare to profit by it rather than be losers thereby.

War in Colorado.

Colorado was again disgraced by a series of sensational outrages yesterday that recalls public attention to the frightful conditions prevailing there. The blowing-up of unsuspecting non-union miners, waiting for a train, at Independence, was the work of infamous scoundrels who would hesitate at nothing. The later riot at Victor has a little shadow of excuse, but not much. It was the result of a turbulent, lawless spirit that has no place in our system of government, or in the progress of civilization. It will lead to a fresh tightening of the military lines and, naturally, to a wave of public conviction that Gov. Peabody has, after all, been justified in the severity of his measures—a matter that had been in serious question outside of Colorado.

By a strange coincidence the supreme court handed down its opinion sustaining the authority of Gov. Peabody to declare and maintain martial law, as he did yesterday. The decision was made public after the explosion at Independence and prior to the riot at Victor, but the events bore no relation to each other, as it appears the rioters had no knowledge of the opinion. The court has, undoubtedly, weighed the facts and the law carefully, with more intimate knowledge of the conditions than the public can have, so its decision must be accepted as just. In effect it strengthens and upholds the governor's hands at a critical moment when he must deal with the fresh outbreak.

There may be more bloodshed at any moment. The striking miners are arming themselves and troops will likely be hurried to the scene. The situation is most deplorable. It is not now possible to determine who was at fault in the beginning, but there can be no question about the duty of the state authorities to restore order at any cost, if they can, and if they cannot it will become the business of the federal government to do so. There has practically been a state of civil war in Colorado for months and present conditions are even more threatening. It is a menace to the welfare of the whole nation and an end must be put to the militant conditions, that the sway of orderly civil government may be resumed. Then the guilty can be sought out in the courts.

The cotton raisers in the south will endeavor to persuade the red ant to forego a summer vacation and stick close to the work of exterminating the boll weevil.

Some cities are deep in the usual summer controversy over the end seat hog. In Pittsburgh the car patron is proud of the chance to stand up between the seats.

Mr. Hearst continues to express the belief that he will be nominated by the St. Louis convention. The optimism of the young Democracy is astonishing.

Those theorists who believe that there is an intimate relation between hot weather and suicide do not lack for illustrations of their doctrine.

Strangely enough, reports of Russian successes come from the farthest possible points from the scenes of war.

Mr Bryan is a delegate-at-large from Nebraska. Mr. Bryan has been a candidate-at-large for several years.

That a vessel called the Thistle sank recently in Queenstown harbor proves that there is nothing in a name.

Hearst admits he is not sure of Bryan's support. That is not all the uncertainty there is behind him.

With 5,000 pupils enrolled the Carnegie Technical school looks to be the popular thing in Pittsburgh.

Talked of in Gotham

By GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—As a real hot weather friend of humanity the Rev. Robert M. Aylesworth of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church, Jersey City, is deserving of honor. He has pronounced himself for the masculine shirtwaists. It was a week ago and more that he declared publicly his sentiments in favor of the men in his congregation coming to church without coats, and commending to women the comfort of worshiping without hats. He has the courage of his convictions. When he stepped upon the platform in his church yesterday morning he was in a thin sack coat, no waistcoat, and low collar, with loose summer tie. He glanced over an assemblage of white shirtwaists, hatless women, relieleved by shirtwaist men dotted here and there. It was a hot morning, but the pastor and congregation alike were cool.

He conducted the services as usual, without any comment on the summery aspect of his flock, but evidently satisfied with the reform he had worked. At the end of the service as he was shaking hands with the members of his congregation, he expressed himself much pleased with the sensible dress assumed by so many of the men and women. Saying that he admired the picture hat and boiled shirt in their place, he added that he did not see why they should be worn in church, to the discomfort of the wearers. He called the starched shirt and frock coat "fashion's boiler plate." Cynical New Yorkers are in the habit of saying that many things are done in Jersey City which would be impossible in civilized New York. Nevertheless there seems to be sound reason in Mr. Aylesworth's opinion that a man or woman can worship with more sincerity when they are physically comfortable than when they are boiling and gasping in tight-fitting, heavy, solidly-woven clothing. It would not astonish any thoughtful person to see the shirtwaist man and the hatless woman a regular feature of the fashionable Fifth Avenue congregation before the end of this month. Perhaps the heavy, formal Sunday-go-to-meeting rig may be one of the answers to the recently discussed question, "Why don't men go to church?"

Detectives Know Their Business.

Broadway detectives are pretty slick, as a rule. They have to be or the crooks would "put it all over them." A broker with a large diamond in his shirt front was looking through a window at the rushing presses in a newspaper office when he was joined by a well-dressed, suave young man, who remarked that the showing of the presses to the public was a great educational work. Then he added that it was the news rather than the methods of transmitting it that interests "us men of the world." He led the conversation to the subject of racing, remarked that he had $100 on some horse, and walked with the broker to the bulletin board at the corner to see whether his horse had won.

"I'm near-sighted. Can you see what it says?" he asked. The broker looked upward, and in that moment the stranger had taken the diamond. He would have got away with it, only that a detective happened to see him. "Nice work, son; nice work!" cooed the detective, as he walked the thief to the station. Let it be repeated that Broadway detectives necessarily are slick.

Horns Were Not Missed.

Although the roof gardens advertised to open tonight carried out their contracts with their patrons, some of the managers had troubles of their own of which only a little is known. The musicians who are members of the union have been demanding more pay for roof garden work, and tonight the trombones and horn players insisted on $35 instead of $21 a week, before they would go on. Oscar Hammerstein paid, but some of the other managers decided that they could furnish enough without a horn or trombone at all. The audience never missed them.

Recreation Piers In Bad Odor.

The question has come up whether the "recreation piers" of Manhattan are beneficial or otherwise. Father Curry of St. James' Catholic church, on the East Side, has come out with the declaration that they do more harm than good, and he has forbidden his young parishioners to go to the new pier at the foot of Market street, on the grounds that the moral atmosphere is not wholesome. There is music provided by the city and there is dancing, but no police supervision to speak of. Naturally, hoodlums, toughs and "hicks" are much in evidence and Father Curry believes that the young women of his parish will be safer away. It is something of a pity that so excellent a provision for the comfort and recreation of people resident of tenement quarters should be spoiled for lack of a few policemen. Father Curry is an influential clergyman, and the probabilities are that orders will come from Mulberry street to place more officers at the recreation piers in the evenings. The long platforms stretching out into the rivers are the coolest resorts in the city. They make life bearable in the sweltering term for thousands of pale faced children, to say nothing of their mothers and fathers.

Must Have Looked at the Map.

There was an influx of large, well-dressed, jolly, but shrewd looking men into New York today. They all seemed to know their way about intuitively, although some confessed that they never had been in New York before. They were delegates to the Hotel Men's association convention, which will open tomorrow and last until Thursday night. A fine line of amusements has been arranged for them, by the resident hotel managers. They have promised to tear off the "lid" and throw it into the bay while the convention continues.

Laughs at Microbe Bogy.

A New York physician of standing has declared that the statement that people can contract tetanus by kissing a person suffering from that ailment is all tommyrot. This is comforting, of course, but it will hardly affect many people. Happily, lockjaw is not so common that more than one person in a 1,000,000 would be likely to be tempted to kiss such a sufferer. He added something that concerns us all, however, to the effect that kissing in general is not an unhealthful pastime. He laughs scornfully at the microbe bogy.

Sunday Trains to Asbury Park.

It is a comfort to be able to go to Asbury Park by train on Sundays. Many of the residents of that charming city by the sea have fought for years the attempt of others to have a Sunday train service, but the war ended in favor of the train advocates at last. The first train to run into Asbury Park after midnight on Saturday was a theater train from New York, with a large number of passengers. It has always been possible to go to Asbury Park by water on Sundays. But there seemed to be a conviction that while steamboats are beyond the pale of hope, ungodly trains must and should be forbidden. Asbury Park is too beautiful a resort to be closed to the people of New York city on any day in the week, even Sunday.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

The barefoot boy is coming, and right now he has the blues,
Because his cautious mother will not let him shed his shoes.
He's anxious for the freedom of the barefoot boy at dawn,
Who does not have to bother with the footwear girls put on.
He wants to wade in water every morning when he goes
To school with other youngsters, and get mud between his toes.

The barefooted boy is coming, and ere long he will be here,
With feet as tough and dirty as they could be made, I fear.
He'll have stone bruises on them and will oft be walking lame,
And yet you may be certain he'll be happy just the same.
He'll stub a toe quite often, yet a little thing like that Won't fease him for a minute! He'll be Johnny at the bat!

The barefoot boy is coming, and if you were once a boy
You know that when we see him we will find him full of joy,
He will not mind the bruises! Has not every youngster paid—
In injured feet—full value for the chance he got to wade?
He will not mind mosquitoes, nor for briar scratches care;
And he will sneer at stockings—when his sunburned feet are bare!

—St. Joseph Gazette.)

It has come—barefoot time.

Along back there in May your feet may have tingled some when the sun shone brightly and the ground looked warm, but mother said no, and she knows best—most always she does—and that's why boys get along best who do what mother says, whether they think it best or not.

Now we know that May was entirely too brickle and uncertain for barefootedness—one day hot as summer and the next as cold as Greenland's icy mountains, or else too sloppy and chilly for even a regular barefooter to venture out.

But May has gone and June has come, and June is different.

* * * * *

June, you know, is the month for boys and roses.

May is all right for girls and Johnny-jump-ups, daffy-down-dillies and such, but not quite hot enough for boys.

June is hot, tolerably hot, usually, but that's what makes boys, and corn, and weeds, and things grow. It raises the sweat, and that's what a boy likes; and he needs it, too, for it loosens his hide so he can grow up and spread out.

A boy likes to sweat and play. Work and sweat is different, but he will play ball, play hook, play anything until he is dripping, sopping wet, and never whimper. But to work until he gets into a lather of sweat is apt to make him nervous. He can cite instances where boys took chills after being worked into a sweat. Mind you, worked into a sweat.

And this June weather is the sweatiest sort on account of the soil being very moist and the sun very hot.

And really it does seem, seriously speaking, that the condition of the mind has a whole lot to do with the results of physical as well as mental exercise. It is possible, therefore, that a boy who works himself into a sweat may become sick, while one who plays himself into it grows fat and saucy.

* * * * *

The boy who goes barefoot and becomes personally and familiarly acquainted with stubbed toes, sand cracks, chickens and stone bruises, knows more of practical life than the boy who wears shoes and stockings all summer, has his nails and corns pared by a professor and indulges in rubbers.

The barefoot boy comes in direct contact with nature, the rough and smooth alike. This teaches him to keep an eye out for the smooth rather than for the rough, for he soon learns that he is more apt to find the thing he is looking for than the thing he is not.

The old-fashioned Quaker parent never failed to impress this upon his children. He rarely pointed out wrong things to them, but always right things, so they were ever looking for the right instead of the wrong. And being thus taught it became a habit of life to look for, and to expect, the right, leaving wrong out of the question, which they could very well do since that which is right cannot be wrong.

This also simplifies life and makes it comparatively easy to get along, there being only one question to answer, one point to settle: Is it right? If it is not right then it must be wrong, and that is all that anyone need to know.

* * * * *

And your barefoot boy gets a better view of people, and becomes more intimately acquainted with them, for in his realm they lay off their masks and show just what manner of folks they are. He soon learns to pick out the better ones, for these are humane and square and decent.

The other kind of boy grows up among masks and make-ups, and soon comes to the conclusion that life is a sham, and that none are what they seem. His early life is made up of sweetmeats and jollies. This is followed by fuss and feathers, and then comes the fun, as the bigger boys say, which to barefoot is both silly and naughty, if not downright sinful.

When winter comes along, as it does to all, the barefoot boy is ready for it, being tempered and polished and toughened to meet all that comes his way.

But June is his month. He looks forward to it hopefully and longingly from New Year's day, and backward to it, pleasantly and thankfully, until Christmas comes with its all-absorbing cheer and racket.

June and barefeet and swimming and fishing and playing—June and everything.

In very truth, boyhood is June.

* * * * *

When the barefoot grows up to be a man he knows a whole lot of things worth knowing, one of which is that he doesn't know it all. Maybe that is why the rest of mankind take kindly to him. Sam Walter Foss appears to think so, if we may judge from the following excerpt from a poem in a recent issue of the American Journal of Education:

"There was a man who understood music,
And right at the very next door
There was a man who understood science—
And neither knew anything more.
And next to him was a metaphysician
Of deep psychological lore,
And next to him was a great theologian—
And neither knew anything more.
And all around these was a business crew,
Who attended to business—that's all they knew.

"And it happened that the man who understood music
Was the dreariest kind of a bore—
A bore to the man who understood science,
Who lived at the very next door.
And they both were bores to the metaphysician,
And both were incurably dreary;
And all of the three made the great theologian
Most unintermittently weary.
And the men all around them, the business crew,
With none of the four had the first thing to do.

* * * * * *

"But there was a man who understood man, sir,
And he never knew anything more.
They all poured their wisdom in showers upon him—
He begged they'd continue to pour.
'Oh, tell me of music, and tell me of science,
And deep metaphysical lore.'
And he'd sit and he'd listen in wondering silence,
And hungrily ask them for more.
And they made him the leader of all their clan—
This wise ignoramus who understood man.

"So he came to the place where these other men lived
And became the first man of the town.
And they thought him the deepest of all their clan—
This wise ignoramus who understood man."

Those Misfit Days

THE STROLLER.

"Oh, for an hour of youthful joy,
Give back my twentieth spring,
I'd rather romp, a barefoot boy,
Than reign a gray-haired king."

"That sounds very neat, whether I've quoted it correctly or not," said my friend The Druggist. "Still, I'm afraid I cannot subscribe to it entirely. Perhaps my boyhood days were not like those of other boys, but—anyhow—I don't believe I would like to live them all over again. There is one occasional day that stands out like a lighthouse in a sea of trouble, but they were rare. My boyhood was before the days of natural gas, for instance, and my people lived over the store. The coal bin was also above the store, and I would hate to guess at how many tons of coal it was my duty to carry up those long stairs each fall and how many tons of ashes there were to carry down as the winter progressed. While the other boys in the neighborhood were playing on the church steps I was carrying coal or ashes.

"I'm not saying that I'm not the better for those things," continued The Druggist, "but I do say that I don't hanker for any more coal to carry, at least not during this hot weather. And there always seemed something to keep me busy, even when there was no coal to be toted upstairs. Nowadays I have an occasional vacation, when I don't even have to puzzle my head over prescriptions that are inclined to produce a headache. I get out under the trees along some creek where there are fish to be had for the pulling of them in, and I rusticate in a way that would make a tramp glad.

"What the deuce started me to talk on this subject?" The Druggist asked himself, and after scratching his head for a moment he continued: "Oh, I remember now. I bought a hat today. That doesn't sound very lucid, but it goes. For nearly 20 years I have been buying my hats at the same place, purely out of sentiment, and if I got stuck once in a while—and I don't—I would still patronize the place. When I was a boy my mother was a domestic economist who was a wonder. And I was at times subject to her economies. My clothes were always bought two sizes too large and I was expected to grow into them. The result was that at about the time the clothes began to near the point of fitting, they were worn out. It nearly broke my boyish heart to see the other fellows neatly fill their clothes, while I was always bothered with an effort to poke my hands out the sleeves, and my coat tail was always down my legs far enough to interfere with my evolutions. And if I didn't keep the coat buttoned there was always danger of falling out of it.

"But a great day arrived for me at last. Mother could not find the time to go to the store with me, and she told father to take me out and buy me a suit of clothes. I had become so used to the large sized article that I went along about as willingly as I would now go to my own hanging. Dad took me to the store where I today bought that hat. The clerk dragged down a velvet suit, short trousers and coat, and put them on me. They fitted like a glove. I looked at myself in the long glass that reached to the floor, and I hardly knew myself. There was a sort of braid around the bottom of the trousers and the end of the sleeves—I don't know what you call it, but it looked like filigree work. Anyhow, it was a beauty, and I expected every moment to hear Dad ask for some thing 'for a growing boy.' But he didn't. He paid the bill and led me from the store in all my glory. And pride? I couldn't walt a minute but broke away and ran the whole way home, so I could show the other boys what a fine looking chap I had developed into.

"The suit didn't suit mother. 'He'll grow right out of it,' she declared. But it was too late. I had worn it an hour or so before she saw it and it was too late to return it. She saw the futility of keeping it for 'Sunday best' and I was allowed to wear that giddy-glorious suit of clothes every day. And it was the best piece of economy ever. I wore that suit until it was so tight that it stopped the circulation and there was so little left of it that I had to have another for the sake of common decency. But to this day I remember that suit of clothes as the one glory of my boyhood days.

"And there is a moral to this story. No self-respecting boy should be asked to wear clothes that do not fit. I believe that had a lasting influence on my otherwise sweet disposition. I never was supremely happy except during the time I wore that velvet suit. I don't think I was ever unruly, exactly, but it made me morose. And it must have the same effect on all boys. My boys will never be allowed to grow into their clothes, they will fit them when they are put on, and they will throw them away when they are so tight as to stop circulation.

"That's why I buy my hats where I bought this one today. It sticks in my memory as 'The Store of the Velvet Suit.'"

My friend The Druggist was unfortunately situated. Now in our family there were enough boys so that the oldest could have a new suit of clothes occasionally, and as he grew out of them the next boy grew in and so on down the line to the youngest. That gave the proper advantage to the eldest and gave him dignity in the eyes of his brothers. Then sometimes we would each get a new suit, all made out of some of father's old one's. But what more should country lads need? Having the run of a farm or two, with a brook as a "line fence," there was joy enough. In driving the cows to pasture and riding the horses to water, one need not bother about whether the clothes fit or not. And there was the big dip in the bed of the brook, deep enough to swim a horse, where father taught us boys to swim, and where, after we grew old enough, we used to ride the horses in after the day's work was done, giving them sport and a good bath. We didn't worry much about the clothes, and the first fellow up in the morning got the pick of the bunch.

I always pity the boy who was born and reared in the city, and these hot days bring the situation clearly to mind. If a boy is compelled to live in the city, and hasn't even a country grandfather or uncle or something else equally important and fetching, he ought to have all the clothes and furbellows he can decently wear and keep cool.

Sorry, but We've Still Got 'Em.

The pink blush has at last disappeared from the face of the fire insurance policies on central Philadelphia properties.—Philadelphia Press.

MORE HEROES.

In passing round the medals for
The heroes great and small,
O Andy, don't forget that those
Who hear their country's call
Are not the only ones who ought
To gather fair rewards,
For there are splendid heroes who
Have never flourished swords,
Who have not heard the screech of shells
And never carried guns,
Who never rushed through smoke and flame
To rescue helpless ones.

In giving out your medals to
The heroes who are brave;
O Andrew, don't forget the man
Who liberates his slave.
Though they deserve the public's praise,
And merit love and fame,
Who hammer down their country's foes,
And save the land from shame,
Great Andrew, do not fail to set
Aside rewards for them
That on the summer Saturdays
Close up at 1 p. m.

'Tis fine to be heroic when
A ship is in distress,
To rescue shrieking maidens and
Exhibit fearlessness;
He's brave who stops a runaway
Within a crowded street,
He's brave who drags the helpless from
Beneath the cruel feet,
But these are not the only ones,
Though glorious they be,
Who should have medals on their breasts
For all the world to see.

When all of us at last are called
To answer over there
Where they that have deserved shall win
Untarnished crowns to wear
When each and all, or high or low,
Must stand before the Lord,
And every meritorious one
Shall gain a just reward,
No splendid here there will have
A brighter diadem
Than he whose store, on Saturdays,
Is closed at 1 p. m.

BIGELOW MADE A DEFENDANT

Mentioned in Equity Suit in Which Fraud Against Creditors Is Charged.

ATTEMPT TO FIND $49,000

Albert G. Colvin, trustee in bankruptcy of Otto George Schultz, filed a bill in equity and interrogatories in the United States district court yesterday against the American Bridge Company, Schultz Bridge & Iron Company, Thomas S. Bigelow and Otto George Schultz. In this bill he attempts to discover $49,000 which the receiver alleges he has been informed has been assigned to Thomas S. Bigelow fraudulently, and without any action of the board of directors of the Schultz Bridge & Iron Company; without any consideration and within four months of the petition in bankruptcy of Otto G. Schultz, the bankrupt. Bigelow is said to be related to A. L. Schultz and was a member of the board of directors of the Schultz Bridge & Iron Company.

The bill is filed by attorney Albert York Smith, and it alleges that Albert C. Colvin was appointed trustee of Otto George Schultz, who filed a petition in bankruptcy. He gave his 318-1000 interest in the Schultz Bridge & Iron Company as of "no value." Colvin says he made numerous attempts to ascertain the value of the interest in the Schultz Bridge & Iron Company and collect the same, but has heretofore been unable to discover what is the real worth of the bankrupt's interest.

The receiver then says that the Schultz Bridge & Iron Company gave an option on its entire assets to I Gifford Ladd for the consideration of $120,150, by which the new purchaser was to take over all the contracts of the Schultz Bridge Company and complete them. He alleges he was informed that this option was taken up by the American Bridge Company, by which it assumed the debts of the Schultz Bridge & Iron Company, finished the contracts and paid the $120,150 in consideration of the transfer of all the real estate, buildings, plants, contracts, etc., the consideration to be in capital stock if so desired. The plaintiff says he is informed there is due the Schultz Bridge & Iron Company about $49,000, with interest, from the American Bridge Company, and that it has offered to compromise this debt with the Schultz Bridge & Iron Company, and has deposited in the hands of some stakeholder in Pittsburgh a check for $19,000 in full payment of this claim. Colvin says he is entitled to 318-1000 of said sum.

The plaintiff then says that at the time Otto George Schultz filed his petition in bankruptcy he was a director in the Schultz Bridge & Iron Company and the other directors were Albert L. Schultz, president; John Hays, C. J. Schultz and Thomas S. Bigelow. Colvin says he is informed that without any meeting of the board of directors an assignment was made by A. L. Schultz to Thomas S. Bigelow of the claim of the Schultz Bridge & Iron Company against the American Bridge Company; that this assignment was made within four months prior to the filing of the petition in bankruptcy of Otto George Schultz, and is, therefore, a preference over the creditors of Otto George Schultz and is a fraud on such creditors, and by virtue of the provisions of the bankruptcy law is null and void. He then says:

That your orator, believing that this assignment to Thomas S. Bigelow of the claim of the Schultz Bridge and Iron Company against the American Bridge Company, amounting to about $49,000, is a fraud and should be set aside by the bankruptcy court, intends to bring an action against said defendants for the purpose of having said assignments set aside and declared void, and of recovering from said defendants the property so assigned, but cannot draw the statement in said suit nor support the same without the information prayed for.

Colvin asks that the defendant be compelled under oath to answer certain interrogatories he submits and give the real value of the property. He also asks for other equitable relief, as the circumstance of the case may require.

AMERICAN DUCHESS ASKS ANNULMENT OF MARRIAGE

Estrangement Between Levi P. Morton's Daughter and the Duke of Valencay.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, June 6.—In consequence of differences between the duke and duchess of Valencay, steps have been taken to dissolve the marriage. The duchess was Helen Morton, a daughter of Levi P. Morton of New York. It is learned in authoritative quarters tonight that the duke's mother, having asked the sanction of the pope for an annulment on the ground that the marriage had been without issue, the duchess has applied to the civil courts for a legal dissolution, the grounds being withheld for the present.

The duke, who is a scion of the ancient and princely house of Talleyrand-Sagan, is at his magnificent chateau on the Loire. The duchess is in Paris at the family residence adjacent to the Boulevard St. Germain. She is in constant communication with her father, who has been here for some time. Close friends have long realized that an estrangement had taken place for the duke stayed continually at his chateau, while the duchess remained in Paris.

Thus far only the members of the two families, and their intimate friends, are aware of the steps that have been taken.

PERFORMERS ARE COMING.

Artists for the Labor Carnival Will Begin Rehearsals at Once.

Most of the attractions for the United Labor carnival will arrive today or tomorrow. The entertainment begins next Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Everything will be ready by Friday night.

Marvelous Marsh, who appears in the bicycle high dive act, carries a special structure with him which requires two days to put in shape. The wires and poles supporting this structure must be in perfect condition. A slip of the wire or a loose support would mean death to the rider.

Master Willie Van Norman's double act of climbing the spiral tower and shooting the space act, is just as dangerous as that of Marsh. Van Norman arrived Saturday and his crew of 10 men will commence work on this structure today. Rosa Edyth and her ballet of 25 will arrive this evening from New York to commence rehearsals for some special acts.

MOUNTING RELIEF MAP.

John C. Alrich Returns With Ideas for Novel Exhibit.

John C. Alrich, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee on the St. Louis exposition, returned yesterday from St. Louis. Mr. Alrich says the relief map of the Pittsburgh district is being mounted under the supervision of Engineer George M. Lehman, who had charge of the construction of the map.

While at the fair Mr. Alrich found that there would be no model blast furnace erected by the United States Steel Corporation, and he secured the vacant space, 40 feet square. He intends to build there a tower 60 feet high, composed of steel rails of all sizes, and to resemble in form the Eiffel tower in Paris. The tower will be surmounted by an electric sign, "Pittsburgh."

Two More Fire Victims Identified.

PEORIA, ILL., June 6.—Two more bodies, those of Louis Sacks and Milton Crowl, were identified today, leaving two of the victims of the disaster at the Corning distillery Saturday afternoon at the morgue so badly burned that recognition is impossible. The health authorities today commenced the work of burying the 3,000 cattle, but the decaying carcasses are already proving a menace to the south end of the city.

Women Will Not Vote.

Women will be denied today the right to vote upon the issue of $85,000 worth of bonds for the erection of a school house in Sharpsburg. Prof. Samuel Hamilton, in a public address last week, declared that women had the right of suffrage on the question, but members of the school board have had legal advice to the contrary.

IMPROVEMENT TO BE ABANDONED

Bigelow Says Ordinance for Widening of Second Avenue Will Be Repealed.

CITY IS HEAVILY ASSESSED

"The ordinance for the widening of Second avenue between Try street and the South Tenth street bridge, will have to be repealed, because the board of viewers has assessed $107,000 against the city, leaving the property owners to pay only $88,000," said Director Bigelow yesterday.

The viewers have completed their assessments of damages and benefits, but have not yet made their report to court. They have, however, announced their awards to the city and affected property owners and the move on the part of Mr. Bigelow to abandon the improvement meets with the approval of the owners, who are expected to pay $88,000. The total cost of the improvement is estimated at $195,000. The property owners on the north side of Second avenue were awarded damages to the amount of $105,000, while the property owners on the south side were assessed $88,000 benefits, the difference in benefits and damages being assessed against the city.

Director Bigelow claims that the property owners should have been required to pay the entire cost of the improvement and he says the only way that the city can avoid paying the assessment of $107,000 is to have the ordinance repealed at once, before the viewers have reported to court.

PASSENGERS IN PANIC WHEN BOY WAS KILLED

Messenger Stepped in Front of Street Car and Was Whirled Under the Wheels.

Harry Niermeyer, a messenger boy, was instantly killed in front of an in-bound Wilkinsburg car in Fifth avenue, near Bellefield avenue, about 3 o'clock yesterday. His death unnerved every spectator of the affair except one, who took prompt measures to have the body cared for. The motorman of the car that struck the boy fainted when he saw the mangled body, as did a woman passenger, and excitement prevailed for some time.

Niermeyer, who was 15 years of age, and lived in Main street, Allegheny, was a messenger for M. Roberts, the jeweler of 441 Market street, and had two books to deliver to Mrs. E. P. Roberts of 4235 Fifth avenue. He went out on an open car, and as he stepped off the running board at his destination, went around the rear of the car without noticing that an in-bound car was coming at considerable speed. He was knocked down in full view of the passengers of the car he had alighted from, was whirled under the wheels, and when the car passed over him rolled once or twice and gasping a few times died as people reached him.

The car crews and the passengers did not know what to do and would scarcely approach the body. One young man had presence of mind and ordered that the corpse be taken from the tracks where it lay and carried to the sidewalk. As this was being done he stopped an express wagon and asked the driver to get a burlap and cover up the body. Then he asked the driver to take the remains back to the Oakland car barns. This was consented to and from the barns the body was finally taken to the morgue.

Some of the passengers who witnessed the accident refused to continue on the car, and were transferred to the one behind.

TREATMENT OUTLINED FOR CONSUMPTIVES

New York City Health Department Gives Admonition to Sufferers.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—Health Commissioner Darlington today announced that the death rate in this city for last week was the lowest in a year, being 17.20 per thousand per annum. The advent of hot weather has caused a sudden decrease in contagious disease cases.

The health department, however, is treating the largest number of pulmonary cases on record, 1,000 in all. For these sufferers and for the public at large, Dr. Darlington has just issued a code of instructions that he thinks should be beneficial in combatting and preventing the disease. His admonitions are:

Be hopeful and cheerful. The disease may be cured, but it will take some time; do not kiss anyone upon the mouth; shave your beard or wear it closely clipped; wash hands thoroughly and clean finger nails before eating; stay in the open air as much as you can; keep at least one window open in your bedroom; keep feet dry and warm; never run nor lift heavy weights; never take any kind of walking, breathing or other exercises when you are tired; go to bed early and sleep at least eight hours; take a warm bath once a week.

ALEXANDER DODDS.

CARRIED BRIDE'S WREATH.

Woods Run Groom Came to Grief Through Beer Bill.

The wreath which a few hours before had graced the brow of his bride was found in George Dobo's pocket last night when he was committed to jail on a charge of false pretense, made before Alderman David Thomas of Woods Run, by George Young, a liquor dealer.

Dobo was married Saturday night. To fittingly celebrate the occasion he bought $48 worth of beer from Young, promising to pay for it when he secured the dowry which came with the bride. He also contracted a carriage bill of $12 50 under the same conditions. He failed to pay yesterday and the suit followed.

The prisoner objected strongly when parted from the wreath last night, claiming that the separation would mean an endless period of misfortune.

BOTH JAWS SHOT AWAY.

Still a Successful Business Man.

A man who had both jaws shot away had trouble eating ordinary food, but found a food-drink that supplies the nutriment needed. He says:

"I have been an invalid since the siege of Vicksburg in 1863, where I was wounded by a minie ball passing through my head and causing the entire loss of my jaws. I was a drummer boy and at the time was leading a skirmish line, carrying a gun. Since that time I have been awarded the medal of honor from the congress of the United States for gallantry on the field.

"The consequences of my wound were dyspepsia in its most aggravated form and I finally proved ordinary coffee was very hard on my stomach, so I tried Postum and got better. Then I tried common coffee again and got worse. I did this several times and finally as Postum helped me every time I continued to use it, and how often I think that if the government had issued Postum to us in the army how much better it would have been for the soldier boys than coffee.

"Coffee constipates me and Postum does not; coffee make me spit up my food, Postum does not; coffee keeps me awake nights, Postum does not. There is no doubt coffee is too much of a stimulant for most people and is the cause of nearly all the constipation.

"This is my experience and you are at liberty to use my name." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

FILIPINOS WILL BE CITY GUESTS

HITS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Mayor Hays sent a telegram to Secretary of War Taft last evening, extending an official invitation to the commmission from the Philippine islands to visit Pittsburgh, and asking when the commission will arrive and how long it will stay in the city. This message was sent by the mayor at the request of the councilmanic committee, which met yesterday afternoon with representatives of the chamber of commerce, the Merchants and Manufacturers' association and the East End board of trade.

The representatives of the chamber of commerce and other business organizations said they were willing to participate in the entertainment of the Filipinos, but could contribute no money for this purpose. It then developed upon the city to find the money, and this Director Bigelow, who was present at the meeting, agreed to do.

"The chamber of commerce and other business bodies said they would drink but they would not treat," said Director Bigelow after the meeting as he looked over his accounts to discover some fund that might be drawn upon. He discovered an appropriation of $5,000 for the building of a retaining wall in Second avenue, Twenty-third ward, this appropriation having been made year after year, and the money in this having been used for some other purpose. The director said he would have a resolution introduced in common council tonight transferring this money to the contingent fund and another resolution authorizing the expenditure of it from the contingent fund to entertain the Filipinos.

The Filipinos are expected on June 28, and will probably be in the city two days, but as soon as the time is definitely learned from the secretary of war, the councils and the city officials will make arrangements for the visit. James J. Booth, a member of the council committee, said that the refusal of the chamber of commerce and other kindred organizations to bear any portion of the expense would deprive them of any prominent part in the entertainment of the visitors from the Philippines.

"The feeling of the members of the council committee is that the councils should make all the arrangements and appoint all the committees," said Booth. "The chamber of commerce and other bodies may be given some representation on these committees, but they will not figure very conspicuously. They are willing to share in the benefits and the glory, but not in the expense."

The council committee decided to increase its membership from 5 to 11, and a resolution will be presented to council tonight providing for the appointment of three more members from each branch. The object of the increase is to give a membership large enough for division into sub-committees to make arrangements for the visit. The committee adjourned to meet again on Friday.

GRAND RAPIDS REFUSES TO ENTERTAIN FILIPINOS

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., June 6.—Mayor Edwin F. Sweet has notified Col. C. H. Edmunds of the bureau of insular affairs at Washington that Grand Rapids declines to entertain the 45 members of the Philippine commission. The difficulty is that the commission was to visit here Sunday, July 3. All the furniture factories here are closed on that day and the city generally is in no condition to entertain at that time.

GAVE DEATH SIGNAL.

One Killed, Another Fatally Hurt by Hurried Start of Coney Island Car.

NEW YORK, June 6.—(Special.)—Two Brooklyn Rapid Transit inspectors, while repairing the motor of the drag-car of a Coney Island train that was drawing into the West End depot today, were crushed under the trucks when the motorman was signaled to start the train without warning to them. Frank J. O'Connor, one of the inspectors, was ground to pieces. Henry Scott, the other, was mangled and taken, dying, to the Emergency hospital.

The cries of the men caused a panic among the passengers that the guards made no attempt to restrain. In the rush to get off the cars many were bruised and torn. When the police arrived neither the conductor nor the motorman of the train could be found, nor would the officials of the road present give them any information of their whereabouts or attempt to explain the accident.

Divers Search for Body.

Six men, under the direction of S. W. Carpenter, a submarine diver, spent yesterday searching for the body of Harry Burns of Bon Avon, drowned in the Ohio river Sunday. The channel was dragged from a point opposite the Clifton station at Emsworth to Glenfield, a mile below. The work will be resumed this morning.

Stolen Money Not Returned.

The report that a philanthropist had returned the House of the Little Sisters of the Poor, Penn avenue and Robertson street, for loss of $3,000 is incorrect. This amount was stolen from the house last Wednesday and the report was that on the following day the mother superior was called to the telephone and told to go ahead with the projected improvement work, as the cost would be met by this stranger. Dr. J. J. Mullen, for the mother superior, stated last night that this alleged return of the loot is influencing others from giving the money needed to replace that stolen.

MEDICAL EXAMINER

Of the United States Treasury Recommends Pe-ru-na.

Another Prominent Physician Uses and Endorses Pe-ru-na.

DR. LLEWELLYN JORDAN, Medical Examiner of the U. S. Treasury Department, graduate of Columbia College, and who served three years at West Point, has the following to say of Peruna:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from your wonderful remedy. One short month has brought forth a vast change and I now consider myself a well man after months of suffering. Fellow sufferers, Peruna will cure you."

A constantly increasing number of physicians prescribe Peruna in their practice. It has proven its merits so thoroughly that even the doctors have overcome their prejudice against so-called patent medicines and recommend it to their patients.

Peruna occupies a unique position in medical science. It is the only internal systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession today. Catarrh, as everyone will admit, is the cause of one-half the diseases which afflict mankind. Catarrh and catarrhal diseases afflict one-half of the people of the United States.

Robert R. Roberts, M. D., Washington, D. C. writes:

"Through my own experience as well as that of many of my friends and acquaintances who have been cured or relieved of catarrh by the use of Hartman's Peruna, I can confidently recommend it to those suffering from such disorders, and have no hesitation in prescribing it to my patients."—Robert R. Roberts.

Catarrh is a systemic disease curable only by systemic treatment. A remedy that cures catarrh must aim directly at the depressed nerve centers. This is what Peruna does.

Peruna immediately invigorates the nerve centers which give vitality to the mucous membranes. Then catarrh disappears. Then catarrh is permanently cured.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

GROOM-ELECT RETURNS LICENSE

Mystery Surrounds Reported Marriage of Prominent East End Girl.

YOUNG WOMAN SUED TWICE

Considerable mystery is attached to the action of L. Lewis Dangerfield yesterday in returning to Recorder Stengel an unexecuted marriage license, with the request that it be revoked. The records show that on June 1 Alderman J. D. Walker of the East End prepared an application for a marriage license for L. Lewis Dangerfield, aged 26, born in Alexandria, Va., but now employed as a bookkeeper for the National Tube Company, and resident at 246 Shady avenue, and Miss Regina M. Ecker, aged 24 years, of 127 Mayflower street, East End, who is also employed by the same company. The license was granted the following day.

It is alleged that in getting the license the advice of S. S. Leslie, secretary of the Hill traction syndicate, was sought. Mr. Leslie admitted yesterday that, accompanied by the young man and woman, he visited Alderman Walker, when the two parties concerned signed an affidavit. Dangerfield yesterday admitted having signed the application, but Miss Ecker denied all knowledge of the affair. She furthermore said that the license had been taken out without her knowledge or consent.

Dangerfield Referred to His Lawyer.

Dangerfield, when asked if the young woman had signed the affidavit said that he did not know. He refused further to discuss the case and referred The Gazette representative to his attorney, Warner Marshall, who is associated with A. M. Neeper. Mr. Marshall was unable to throw any light on the mysterious license.

The Eckers are well-to-do and highly respectable. The father of Miss Ecker at one time was employed in one of the Westinghouse plants, and one of her three brothers is H. P. Ecker, formerly city organist of Allegheny.

Mrs. Ecker said last night that her daughter is too young to marry and that she had opposed the match, although she admitted Dangerfield had never asked for her daughter's hand. She knew nothing of the marriage license and doubted that one had been issued. One of the brothers has been sent for and will look after the interests of his sister.

Regina Ecker is a decidedly pretty girl and makes a striking appearance. Mrs. Ecker said that she, herself knew Mr. Leslie only slightly and that she had little to say to him when called at the Ecker home. The family was greatly surprised when on May 25 last, Leslie caused the arrest of Regina Ecker on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Regina Was Fined $10 and Costs.

A warrant of arrest was sworn to before Police Magistrate Thomas D. Stewart and the case was heard the following morning at Central station, the defendant being fined $10 and costs, or $14 40.

The charge in detail was to the effect that Regina Ecker had entered Leslie's office on the ninth floor of the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, Fourth avenue and Smithfield street a few days before. The only witness in the case, the plaintiff, testified that Regina Ecker became boisterous, used bad language and finally threatened to get drunk and tell certain things to his family.

Next morning, upon returning to his office, Leslie says he found, under his door, a note. It read: "Please do not allow your lady visitor to make so much noise, as it annoys the tenants." Regina Ecker also received a note that morning asking her to refrain from making noises, etc., when calling.

There is an office which adjoins that of Leslie's with a door leading between. This, however, is always locked, as the office is occupied by another concern. There are usually from three to four clerks in this room. They were asked yesterday if they had ever heard any disturbance in the adjoining office, and replied that they had not.

Diamond Ring Plays a Part.

After this affair of last month it is said that Leslie saw very little of Regina Ecker. But following close on the heels of the police court trial, came a charge of a graver nature. Regina Ecker was informed, by an officer of the law, that she was wanted on a charge of larceny, the information having been made by Leslie before Magistrate Stewart. The charge hinged upon a ring which Lesslie swore was in the possession of Regina Ecker, who refused to give it up. The defendant testified that she had the ring, having taken it as a gift. She was held to court in $500 bail and this, like the other case, never got to the public.

The friends of Regina Ecker then got busy. The disorderly case was appealed as soon as the fine was imposed, and an appeal was likewise taken in the larceny charge. Regina Ecker, it is learned, fearing further prosecution, threatened Leslie with a suit of barratry, and a general compromise resulted, the Ecker girl keeping the ring.

During all of this time Dangerfield had been a constant caller at the Ecker home, where he was welcomed. He was frequently seen with Regina Ecker, and it became rumored that the two would marry. Dangerfield says that Lesslie said that he would be able to arrange for a license so that the couple might be married without publicity, and with this understanding the license application was prepared before Alderman Walker. Why Regina Ecker was not a party to the application neither she nor Dangerfield will explain. Lesslie says that she was.

Stengel Looking Into the Matter.

At all events the marriage has not occurred, chiefly on account of the fact, it is believed, that Regina Ecker opposed it, for the present. Recorder Stengel informed Dangerfield yesterday that marriage licenses could not be revoked. He took the license and application to his private office intimating that he would investigate the procedure. He said: "I am opposed to aldermen fixing applications, although I do not know that there has been anything wrong in this case." Alderman Walker is out of the city and there was no one at his office who knew anything of the case.

Dangerfield came to Pittsburgh originally from Alexandria, Va., where his aristocrath family, in years gone by, owned a large estate. The family has moved, however, Mrs. Dangerfield and two sons residing in Baltimore. It is learned that there could not have been opposition to the marriage on the part of the Dangerfields, as they had not heard of it. Miss Ellen Dangerfield, an aunt, of 144 B street, Washington, said last night that she had not been informed of the marriage of her nephew.

AUTHORIZES A TREATY WITH UNITED STATES

President Amador of Panama Signs Bill Authorizing Agreement Regarding Taxes.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PANAMA, June 6.—President Amador has signed the bill passed by the assembly authorizing the executive to reduce taxes outside the canal zone, which are different from those within the zone, so that commercial interests both within and without the canal district may be treated equitably.

The bill also authorizes the government to make a treaty with the United States in respect to taxes in the cities of Panama and Colon and in other portions of the canal zone, so that the imposts shall be identical in every part of the canal territory.

The president is also empowered to make a treaty with Colombia, if the latter shall recognize the independence of Panama.

It seems certain that the monetary measure now before the assembly will be accepted, as it is a compromise between the opposing views. The principal points of the plan are that the basis shall be the American gold dollar and the unit of circulation the silver dollar as used in the Philippines.

Boy Hurt in a Runaway.

Michael Holleran, aged 10, was fatally injured in a runaway accident in Eighth avenue, Homestead, yesterday afternoon. He climbed into a wagon during the absence of the driver and the horse became frightened and ran away. At Eighth avenue and Neel street the wagon collided with a street car. Holleran was thrown into the street.

SHOT HIMSELF IN A FIT OF TEMPER

OTHER VIOLENT DEATH CASES

Because he was piqued at the absence of his wife and her failure to prepare his supper last night, Charles Whitehead, aged 28, a machinist in the employ of the Mesta Machine Company, put a bullet through his head and at midnight had no chance for recovery, according to the attending physicians. Whitehead lived in Heisel street, Homestead. The tragedy occurred shortly before 11 o'clock, in the presence of Mrs. Whitehead, with whom he had quarreled.

When the man went to work yesterday morning it was with the understanding that he and his wife would pay a social call after supper. During the afternoon Mrs. Whitehead came to Pittsburgh. On returning from the shops in the evening Whitehead found an empty house and nothing to eat.

Angry because of his disappointment, Whitehead upbraided his wife and after getting something to eat refused to go out as had been arranged. Despite the protests of the husband, the wife left the house and called on the friends who were to have been visited. She returned about 10 o'clock and a quarrel started.

"Well, I guess I'll end it all," said Whitehead, and putting a revolver behind his right ear pulled the trigger.

While swimming in Turtle creek about 10 o'clock yesterday morning, Cleveland Bean, aged 13, of Penn avenue, Turtle Creek borough, went beyond his depth and was drowned.

Memorial day furnished its first tetanus victim yesterday, when Anthony Schrimer, aged 14, of Beckfield place, Spring Hill, Allegheny, died of lockjaw as the result of injuries from a toy pistol which he had been firing on that day.

Joseph Hickson, aged 35, a structural iron worker living in Power's court, rear of 549 Sixth avenue, died in Central police station yesterday afternoon. Several weeks ago his skull was injured by a fall. He was drinking on Sunday and was arrested for climbing telegraph poles. His condition was discovered by the turnkey at Central station, but before a physician came Hickson was dead.

Melancholy over the death of his wife, Henry Notzke, aged 45, a blacksmith, employed by the Castle Shannon Coal Company, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid under the Castle Shannon trestle Sunday night. His body was found yesterday morning.

The young man who shot himself in the Commercial hotel, Sixth street, Saturday night, was yesterday identified as George Desautelle, aged 23, of 1026 Berlin street, McKeesport. He was employed as night clerk in the Hotel White, but left there about a month ago. Identification was made by his sister, Della Desautelle, but no motive has been ascribed for the act.

PERSONALS

W. P. Wright, who for years was Senator Quay's private secretary, was in Pittsburgh last night. This morning he will leave for California, where he will visit his father. At the conclusion of his western trip Mr. Wright will go to Munich to begin his consular duties.

James Meredith of Levittsburg, O., spent yesterday in Pittsburgh on business. As a rule farmers pray for rain, but Mr. Meredith is disgusted with the past weather. Speaking on this subject he said: "Rain with plenty of hot sunshine is good for grain, but not for tobacco. The drops remain on the leaf and finally, with the hot rays of Old Sol, eat a hole through, or discolor the plant until its value is reduced. Rain is good for tobacco plants, providing the water leaves the plant before the sun strikes it. However, this is good weather for rye and wheat. The winter, with the long snows, protected the rye seed. The oats and corn cannot thrive with this kind of weather."

Charles E. Pugh, second vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, passed through the city last night for St. Louis. He was accompanied by his family and occupied a private car. When seen at the Union station he said: "The management of the various railroads leading to St. Louis are anxious about the success of the travel to the world's fair. Although the exposition is really not in its zenith regarding the exhibits, yet it has been the magnet of far more people than was expected by railroad officials. Business in general, so far as it effects the railroads, is improving, and while we do not expect real heavy traffic until after the presidential election, we realize that it is in far better condition than we expected."

"There is no building on this side of the Allegheny mountains that so many people enter as the Union station," said John H. Sanson of Dubois last evening. He had arrived at the Union station shortly before 9 o'clock, when six trains were entering the shed at one time. According to the statement of the station master 240 trains arrive and depart from the station every 24 hours.

J. B. Snako of Austria passed through the city last night over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. He was on his way to St. Louis, having been assigned to take charge of an exhibit by an Austrian commercial firm.

Tired, Tired

Tired. That one word tells the whole story. No rest. No comfort. No particular disease. Just all tired out. Fortunately, physicians know about Ayer's Sarsaparilla. They prescribe it for exhaustion, anemia, depression, general debility. $1.00. All Druggists.

No matter what ails you nor what medicine you take, you cannot get well if your bowels are constipated. Correct this at once by taking Ayer's Pills, just one pill each night. These are a great aid to the Sarsaparilla.

PRISONER DUMB TO QUESTIONS

Man in Allegheny Station Is Thought to Be a Crook Whose Arrest Is Important.

NEW YORK POLICE NOTIFIED

In Allegheny Central station there is a man who is supposed to be James Geary, but who refuses to utter a word regarding himself. He is awaiting the result of the answer to a query sent to the New York police by the authorities. Superintendent Campbell and his assistant, John Glenn, are convinced that Geary is a professional crook whose operations have been extensive, and that his arrest is an important one.

The man was arrested yesterday morning shortly before 8 o'clock by Wagonman Glamser. With a companion Geary entered the house of Mrs. Annie Schmeigel in the rear of 616 Preble avenue. They were discovered in the act of searching the trunk of Joseph Beach, a boarder. Although threatened with bodily injury if she dared make any noise, Mrs. Schmeigel cried out loudly and attracted the attention of the men at No. 8 patrol station. They gave chase and Geary was easily captured. The other man escaped along the Ft. Wayne tracks.

When locked up and questioned Geary said his name was John Doe. In his clothes were found several receipts of the New York Transportation Company, dated as recently as February 18 last. Besides this several freight and express receipts were found. While running from the police Geary tried to destroy a memorandum book and other papers, but they were recovered, and are in the possession of Assistant Superintendent Glenn. According to the latter they contain information that warrants a rigid investigation into Geary's past. He was photographed and the picture sent to the New York city police, along with a letter from Superintendent Campbell.

Through some error it was printed in the afternoon papers that the man was thought to be William Connors, whose home was supposed to be in the South Side. A young man by that name, who said his home was in Bingham street, called on Assistant Superintendent Glenn last night and inquired as to the identity of the prisoner. Connors told Glenn that he had lost his position because of the publication of the story, and that this is the second time within a few months that the same error has occurred. Some time ago Connors said he was working in Wheeling when a man was arrested whose supposed name was William Connors of Bingham street, South Side, Pittsburgh. The story was published throughout Eastern Ohio, he said, and because of it he lost his position in Wheeling.

The police can give no reason for the mistake in names, as there was nothing about Geary's clothes or in his scant conversation to lead to the belief that his name was Connors. Glenn promised Connors that an investigation would be made as to the origin of the error.

PROF. M'CORMICK HAS NOT DECIDED AS YET

Will Not Accept the Chancellorship of the Western University Until After June 16.

By request of Prof. S. B. McCormack, who was recently elected chancellor of the Western University of Pennsylvania, final action on his election was not taken at the annual meeting of the trustees yesterday. He asked that he be given until after June 16, when the commencement exercises will be held at Coe college, where he is now.

It was reported at the meeting that there will be 14 graduates this year in the collegiate department, three postgraduates and 19 graduates in law. The honor pupils were not decided upon, as their theses had not been submitted. A later meeting of the board will pass upon this question.

John A. Brashear brought up the question of changing the name to the "University of Pittsburgh" or "Pittsburgh University." There was no objection except on the ground that the question should be settled at a fuller meeting of the board. A committee has been engaged for some time past in the search for a new site for the university and instructions have been given that this site be within the limits of Pittsburgh proper.

On the recommendation of the department of pharmacy, the degree of doctor of pharmacy was conferred on Albert F. Judd and John A. Shafer. The following honorary degrees were offered: Dr. J. H. McClelland, Sc. D.; the Hon. Hampton L. Carson, attorney general of Pennsylvania, who will deliver the commencement address, LL. D.; the Rev. Frank Fish of Claysville, D. D.; the Rev. Andrew D. Heffern of Philadelphia, D. D.

A memorial minute on the death of John G. Brown, the oldest member of the board, and the second oldest alumnus, was adopted. Mr. Brown died March 4.

All the members of the board whose terms expire were re-elected, as follows: The Rev. Dr. John Crockar White, Benjamin Thaw, Dr. J. C. Dunn, Daniel H. Wallace, W. L. Scaife, Andrew Carnegie, Robert Pitcairn and J. C. Thaw. The new members elected to fill vacancies are: F. T. F. Lovejoy, H. P. Bope, the Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy and Dr. J. C. Lange.

ABANDONED BABY WAS STAR ACTOR IN COURT

It Had Been Adopted by a Prisoner When the Mother Made Dramatic Entrance.

Among other cases disposed of yesterday by Magistrate Stewart in Central police court was that of a negro infant. The month-old-babe was left in a restaurant at 35 Eleventh street, Sunday night, and later turned over to the matron at Central police station. Among the prisoners in the matron's department at the time was Carrie Williams of Our alley, who had been committed to the workhouse for 30 days for a trivial offense. She saw the baby and requested that she be allowed to nurse it during the night.

Yesterday morning she declared she had taken such a liking to the infant she wanted to adopt it. The matron was anxious to dispose of her charge, but did not believe the workhouse to be a proper place in which to raise children. She communicated with the magistrate and he agreed to revoke the penalty and give Mrs. Williams the child provided she promised to be good.

This matter had hardly been settled when the mother of the child appeared and demanded her offspring. She regretted having abandoned it and said she did not want to go back to her home in Camden, N. J., with the child and disgrace her mother, but had now decided to stay here with the little one. Magistrate Stewart took both women to his private office, and after considerable bickering, the mother finally agreed to allow Mrs. Williams to take the child, and, giving the little one a parting kiss, she turned it over to its foster mammy.

YEE TUN WAS ROBBED.

Laundryman Had $5 Taken from His Shop in Daylight.

Yee Tun, a Chinese laundryman of Brushton, was robbed yesterday in daylight. The first the neighborhood knew of it was when two well dressed young men ran out of the laundry, followed by Yee, who shouted: "Lobbels! Lobbels!" The robbers turned down Tioga street and got away.

Yee Tun said he was working in the back room of the laundry when the men entered. One struck him in the face, knocking him down, while the other grabbed up a little box containing $5 in change. As late as 10 o'clock last night the police at the East End station had not heard of the robbery.

The postman will bring a red and white card worth 5 cents at the grocer's. Good for a box of Search Light Matches free.

Miss Gannon, Sec'y Detroit Amateur Art Association, tells young women what to do to avoid pain and suffering caused by female troubles.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I can conscientiously recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to those of my sisters suffering with female weakness and the troubles which so often befall women. I suffered for months with general weakness, and felt so weary that I had hard work to keep up. I had shooting pains, and was utterly miserable. In my distress I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it was a red letter day to me when I took the first dose, for at that time my restoration began. In six weeks I was a changed woman, perfectly well in every respect. I felt so elated and happy that I want all women who suffer to get well as I did." —MISS GUILA GANNON, 359 Jones St., Detroit, Mich., Secretary Amateur Art Association. —$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

When one considers that Miss Gannon's letter is only one of the countless hundreds which we are continually publishing in the newspapers of this country, the great virtue of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine must be admitted by all.

OIL A SUPERIOR STEAM PRODUCER

Naval Board Conclusions Favor Petroleum After Two Years' Experiment.

VALUABLE IN TIME OF WAR

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.

That fuel oil—crude petroleum—is more of a steam producer than coal, and that with light distillation its combustion is less wearing on boilers, are two of the conclusions reached by the naval board, made for two years has experimented with liquid fuel in this city. Its report is considered the most effective aid to the development of the use of oil as fuel in regions where it is plentiful. Commercial interests all over the United States are anxiously seeking information which will enable them to economically change from costly coal to oil for fuel. In some regions where oil is plentiful, as California and Texas, the change can and has been made to advantage, but as yet the position of coal as the generally used steam producer is not threatened.

The question of fuel supply has risen to one of exceeding military importance, since the modern battleship requires a minimum amount of from 20 to 30 tons of coal a day when on blockade and the engineers kept in readiness for moving on short notice. The nation that has a wealth of superior fuel at its command along every portion of its coast possesses one of the elements of sea power. It is by reason of the paramount and growing importance of the fuel question that the problem of utilizing crude petroleum for naval purposes is now uppermost in the mind of naval strategists and administrators.

By reason of the Texas and Louisiana oil fields being contiguius to the strategic waters of the Gulf of Mexico, the Pennsylvania wells being connected by a pipe line with terminal facilities at New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, and the California production being in close connection with San Francisco, the oil production of the United States gives promise of being utilized to greater military advantage than can be the production of any other nation to its benefit in time of war.

With full appreciation of the military necessity, as well as the maritime and commercial advantages that would result from the careful, conscientious and extended tests of the comparative merits of coal and oil as a fuel, the navy department commissioned three years ago a series of experiments that have proven to stand unrivaled for a decade or two in the determination of the actual qualities and possibilities of this fuel as a source of military strength and commercial wealth. Realizing that the report of a naval board will be without prejudice, and of a disinterested nature, but complete in every detail, the various persons interested in the use of oil fuel co-operated with the naval experts in this matter.

Not only was the California and Texas product tested but practically every form of patented burner representing a distinct design was tried. Experts from every section of the country visited the experimental plant and made suggestions whereby the value of the experiments would be enhanced. It was understood that the naval board was simply a clearing house, or central body, wherein all interested in the development of the use of oil as a fuel could express their views and have judgment based upon their suggestions and inventions.

TWIN CITIES WELCOME THE OLD LIBERTY BELL

School Children Are Given Free Street Car Tickets to View Revolutionary Relic—Salute of 13 Guns and Courthouse Chimes Greet It.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PAUL, June 6.—All the schools in St. Paul had a half holiday today in honor of the Liberty bell, which had arrived here on its special car. Thousands thronged the Union station to view this relic of revolutionary days. A feature of the day was the distribution to each pupil of the public and Roman Catholic schools of free street car tickets good for a ride to and from the place of exhibition, by the Twin City Rapid Transit Company.

The official visit of the bell began when a salute of 21 guns was fired by a battery from the national guard. This was accompanied by the blowing of factory and locomotive whistles, and the ringing of bells. The bell, this afternoon, went to Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 6.—The visit of the Liberty bell this afternoon was made the occasion for a general holiday. Reduced rates on the railroads brought many visitors to swell the crowds that viewed the historic relic on its car in the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway yards. Its arrival was signalled by a salute of 13 guns, the blowing of numerous steam whistles, the ringing of bells and the playing of patriotic airs on the court house chimes. The public schools were dismissed and a free ride to view the bell and return was given to each of 25,000 school children by the Twin City Rapid Transit Company.

Many social attentions were shown the Philadelphia party, beginning with a reception in Mayor Haynes' suite at the city hall, the program including an automobile drive about the city, luncheon for the ladies in the afternoon and dinner for the gentlemen of the party in the evening, given by the city council and public organizations.

COMPETITION FOR THE M'KINLEY MEMORIAL

National Association Perfects Plans for Selecting the Architect.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—The trustees of the McKinley National Memorial association have issued the program for the competition for the memorial to the late president to be erected at Canton, O., for which $500,000 have been collected by popular subscriptions. Architects E. P. Casey, Arthur Dillon, H. V. Magonigle, A. R. Ross of New York, and G. Lovell of Boston, were selected from the preliminary competition, in which over 100 plans from Europe and America were submitted.

These, together with six other architects, A. W. Brunner; Cass Gilbert & McKim, Meade & White, New York; Wyatt & Nolting, Baltimore; Eames & Young, St. Louis, and D. H. Burnham, Chicago, are invited to draw up more complete plans from which a jury, consisting of Gov. Franklin Murphy, Cornelius N. Bliss, E. W. Bloomingdale, W. A. Lynch and William McConway will make a final selection, assisted by an advisory commission composed of R. S. Peabody, Boston, and Walter Cook, New York, architects, and Daniel C. French of New York, sculptor.

It is intended to select the final plan by October 1 and to proceed immediately with the selection of the monument, which is to contain the tomb of the president and Mrs. McKinley and a room for memorial services.

Service of the writ has been obtained on Mr. Rogers, but none of the other defendants has yet been served.

Struck by Lightning Twice.

That lightning never strikes twice in the same place is refuted by the fact that the dwelling of George Davis, in Homerville, was struck yesterday afternoon for the second time within a year. CINCINNATI RECEIVES FILIPINO DELEGATION

Secretary of War Presents Them at the Home of His Brother.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, June 6.—The honorary board of Filipino commissioners to the world's fair arrived tonight from the west, having made the trip of 1,755 miles from St. Louis in eight hours and one minute. There were more than 50 in the party.

The visitors were met by Mayor Fleischmann, Vice President William M. Greene of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railway, and a large reception committee. After supper the party went to the home of Charles P. Taft, publisher of the Cincinnati Times-Star, where a reception was given. Secretary of War and Mrs. Taft had arrived from Washington in the morning, and spent the day at the Taft home. The secretary of war first received the representatives of the archipelago, and then, with his brother, introduced them to the citizens that thronged the Taft house during the evening.

Secretary Taft said that when it was planned to exhibit wild tribes of Filipinos at the world's fair, objection was made on the ground that inhabitants of the United States would think there were no civilized people in the Philippine islands. He said that the Philippines contained 7,000,000 civilized Christians, while the wild tribes numbered only 600,000 persons. It was to show to the people of the United States some of the best Christian Filipinos that the Philippine commission selected 50 representative native citizens of the islands to visit the principal cities of the United States.

LAW RESTRICTS RURAL CARRIERS

PACKAGES MUST BE MAILED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.

A ruling that will affect thousands of publishers and merchants in every section of the country, in addition to the 24,500 rural mail carriers in the government service, was made today by the postoffice department. It outlines the privileges and duties of the rural carriers as provided by the new law enacted in the postoffice appropriation bill, and which raised the salaries of the rural carriers from $600 to $720 per annum.

Under Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow's construction of the law these carriers are practically prohibited from transacting any business other than that of carrying the mail. They cannot deliver newspapers or periodicals except those sent through the mail; they cannot collect subscriptions to any publication; they cannot distribute samples for merchants or deliver packages except when patrons ask them to do so. In short, by adding $120 a year to the salaries of the rural carriers, the government has cut them off from practically every other source of income. After citing the provisions of the new law, the postoffice department construes it as follows:

Under this provision of law no matiable matter may be handled by rural carriers while serving their routes unless the proper postage has been prepaid, with the single exception of county newspapers which, under the law, are permitted to be carried free throughout the county in which they are published, to actual subscribers, and such newspapers addressed to subscribers, residents on rural routes, must be deposited at the postoffice, the same as papers for other subscribers.

The hire for merchandise carried on request of the patron of the delivery must be paid by the patron. Carriers will not be permitted to receive any compensation from the seller of such merchandise.

Articles or packages which are matiable, which are handed to the carrier or deposited in the postoffice or in a rural letter box, or in a collection box located on a rural route, with request that the rural carrier deliver the same, are subject to the rules regulating mail matter including the payment of postage thereon.

Articles or packages that are not mailable, which the patron desires the rural carrier to take, must be delivered to the carrier in person, and in carrying merchandise for hire rural carriers are not permitted to leave their routes as officially laid out or to accept anything that will in any way delay the delivery of the mail, or in any way interfere with the efficiency of the service.

Ever since congress passed the postoffice appropriation bill Mr. Bristow has been besieged with requests for a ruling on it, but this is the first official announcement of the view that the department will take. This ruling will be sent to all postmasters who will communicate the provisions to the rural carriers.

AMERICAN WITH JAPANESE PREDICTED OWN DEATH

Family of Captain W. Strouse of Monongahela Receives Letter Written by Him.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MONONGAHELA, PA., June 6.—From a letter received today by Mrs. Nettie Strouse it is evident that her son, Capt. Walter Strouse, who met death while fighting under the Japanese flag, had a premonition that a Russian bullet would end his life. Capt. Strouse was shot while leading his men in an engagement on the Liao-Tung peninsula. He was but 32 years old and was a graduate of the Monongahela High school. Last December he sailed for Tokyo, and upon his arrival there he enlisted in the Japanese army as a private. He soon received a promise that on June 1 he would be promoted to a captaincy. For bravery on the field he received his commission April 1. He was killed in the first battle after his promotion. Mrs. Strouse has received an official report of her son's death, written in Japanese. It is accompanied by a translation in English. The report speaks in the highest terms of young Strouse, describing him as a fearless and competent officer. The letter written by Capt. Strouse himself, on the eve of the battle which closed his life, is dated April 17, and was delayed in transmission. It is as follows:

Dear Mother and Sisters—If this letter reaches you, all will be over and my life at an end. I want to be remembered to all who have been my friends both before and since my absence. If I must die, it will be in the front, fighting. I do not fear death. On the contrary it promises only peace, quiet and rest from all care and trouble. I am weary and long for nothing but that which promises release except death. So I say come what will. With my deepest love to all, I will say good night. May God guard and keep you all and bring you safely through the dark shadows.

Your loving son and brother,

WALTER STROUSE.

In the engagement on the day following that on which this letter was written, Capt. Strouse was mortally wounded. Two of his men who saw him reel and drop to the ground ran to him to recover his body. They, too, were shot. The three bodies were not identified after the battle, so Mrs. Strouse has no hope of her son receiving burial here.

WEST VIRGINIA TOWNS SWEPT BY A TORNADO

Amos Suffers Principally—Loss from Razed Oil Derricks Estimated at $75,000.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

FAIRMONT, W. VA., June 6.—Oil derricks were razed to the ground, houses were unroofed and twisted on their foundations and lives were imperiled in a fierce tornado that swept the town of Amos, 12 miles from here, last evening. Amos is the center of a large oil territory, and nearly all the wells in that region are owned by the South Penn Oil Company. The damage sustained by the oil company is estimated at $75,000, and that done in the town at $2,000. The home of Dr. L. L. Yost was demolished, and members of the family narrowly escaped death. Harry Yost, a boy of 12, was blown 100 yards into a field. He was severely bruised.

Telegraph and telephone wires were torn down, and the town is shut off from communication with the outside world. While Amos was directly in the path of the storm, Fairmont and other places were also in the storm area, and all suffered much damage. In Fairmont trees were blown down, chimneys shattered and fences razed. The wind was accompanied by a heavy rain. Outside of Amos great trees snapped off near the ground.

VOTE OF DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES CONFIRMED

Indiana Convention Today. Rumor That Judge Harry White Will Run Independently.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

INDIANA, PA., June 6.—(Special.)—The Democratic county convention will be held here tomorrow. In the primaries held Saturday there was not a contest. This never happened here before. Only one candidate has announced his name—D. H. Tomb for common pleas judge. The county is so overwhelmingly Republican that it is always a foregone conclusion that no candidate can be elected on the Democratic ticket. Hence there is rarely a contest, save when the law stipulates that men of opposing politics shall be chosen, as in the case of county commissioner and jury commissioner. Tomb will be nominated for the judgeship without opposition, and the other county offices will be begging.

A rumor is current that Judge Harry White, who was a candidate at the recent Republican primaries and was defeated, will be an independent candidate for judge in the general election next fall. He cannot be nominated by the Democrats at their convention tomorrow, as he has not been announced in accordance with the rules of the party.

UNIONTOWN, PA., June 6.—The vote cast in Saturday's Democratic primaries in Fayette county was canvassed this afternoon, with the following nominations resulting: Sheriff, Biddle Hornbeck; district attorney, E. C. Higbee; assembly, George B. Jeffries, D. P. Morgan and W. A. Griffin; supervisors, W. S. McClay and poor director, Nathaniel King. The defeated candidates are J. D. Kerfoot for sheriff and Fowler P. Newmyer for assembly. The convention was called to order by County Chairman W. N. Carr, and J. S. Elwell of Perry township was chosen chairman. H. S. Dumbauld and J. S. Christy were chosen reading clerks, and S. P. Boyd and John G. Harford recording clerks. The convention lasted two hours.

MERCER, PA., June 6.—The Democratic county convention met in Mercer today and was presided over by William Bohn of Sharon. The nomination of a candidate for judge called for the only contest and resulted in the nomination of W. C. Pettit of Greenville by a majority of two, over the Hon. J. G. White of Mercer. B. M. Magoffin of Mercer, who had been selected for the nomination, refused to take it unless it came to him unanimously and this the convention was not prepared to give. The ticket nominated is as follows: For congress, W. Baker Hellman, Sharon; state senate, W. F. Harpst, Greenville; assembly, Fred H. Alderman, Sharon, Richard Fitzgerald, Greenville, and W. W. Vaneman, Grove City; poor director, J. M. Clingan, South Sharon; coroner, Dr. McConnell, Grove City; surveyor, W. F. Burton, Sugar Grove. Resolutions were adopted pronouncing in favor of the election of a senator by popular vote.

VAUDEVILLE IN PARKS.

Southern Had Its Opening With Several Musical Acts Before a Crowd.

Southern park inaugurated the summer vaudeville season last night with a good bill, and as strong as the one at Kennywood. Kennywood had fairly large crowds. The sensational act by Mlle. Oneida, called the "Spark of Life," in which she flies down a wire suspended by her hair, proved thrilling, while the tightwire balancing turn done by Elmore and Oneida was a feature. In the theater the Jansen troupe of illusionists did clever work and Harry Munroe had a monologue. Marks and Sartella had a sketch, and Sally Baker presented coon songs.

The first bill at Southern was a strong one. Princess Chinquilla, the Indian girl, and Ed Newell, her traveling companion, did a musical turn. Ponti Bonl Brothers, comedy singers and bell imitators, and McDevitt and Kelly, in a black face singing and dancing turn, were features, while Al Hoevet, musical comedy, and Will Kaskins, the "country fiddler" and mimic, were the cause of much fun.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 6.—Not in many years have the champions received a worse drubbing than that handed to them in their first game this year at the Polo grounds by the Giants, who walloped them second to plenty from the start to the finish, winning, 15 to 2, thereby gaining the lead in the pennant race, as the Brooklyns put the Chicagos safely away.

The Giants made the most of a hit from a sacrifice to a home run, more of the latter than the former. Before they got through with Miller and Camnitz they piled up 10 hits for a total of 21 bases, which tells only too plainly why the Pirates went down in inglorious defeat. He is a young man of exemplary habits and should fit in well with the Pirates, as his ambition has always been to be with the Pittsburgh team.

Leach, Beaumont and Clarke made up the seven assists, the latter getting credit for one of the errors. Before they got through with Miller and Camnitz they piled up 10 hits for a total of 21 bases, which tells only too plainly why the Pirates went down in inglorious defeat. He is a young man of exemplary habits and should fit in well with the Pirates, as his ambition has always been to be with the Pittsburgh team.

Waynesburg Can't Hit Springer.

WASHINGTON, PA., June 6.—(Special.)—Springer, the Waynesburg pitcher, gave Waynesburg but one hit in seven innings. Rain stopped the contest in the middle of the seventh inning, and the score reverted to the sixth. Washington-Jefferson won, 7 to 0. The fielding of one of them being another home run by Bresnahan, on which he scored two men, making six more runs in the inning.

Camnitz and Smith supplied Miller and Phelps in the fourth inning, but the young Cotton State twirler could not stop the hitting to any extent, one run coming over in this inning and repeated the dose in the fifth. Two more came over the pan in the seventh on two hits, a gift and a fielder's choice. The score:

MORE KIDNAPING IS THREATENED BY MOORS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The following cablegram was received at the state department today from Consul General Gummere, dated Tangier, June 6:

"Feast passed without disturbance. Situation unchanged. Awaiting reply from court."

A mail report from the consul general relative to the Perdicaris case reached the state department today. The report spoke bitterly of the situation and said that there is no doubt that the kidnaping of Perdicaris, although he had been a public benefactor, was most popular with the Moors, who openly declared that this first incident will be followed by others of the kind.

Rear Admiral Chadwick, in a cablegram to the navy department today, said that the British minister at Morocco had requested the English government to send a battleship to Tangier.

DREYFUSS NOT DOWNCAST OVER PIRATES' OUTLOOK

Club Owner Says Team Is Sure to Win Pennant—Banks on Lynch—Flaherty a Pirate.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburgh baseball team, in speaking of the slump in his team in the pennant race, said:

"Oh, never mind about the Pittsburghs. They will walk off with the flag again. They are just getting ready to make the spurt. They have got the class to them, and like good race horses, that will tell when the route is long. The season is young yet, and my team has hardly got to going good. The same thing happened last year, but we walked in.

"In a few days I will spring a new pitcher whom I secured from Brown university. His name is Mike Lynch. Then McGinnity will have to look to his laurels. Lynch shut out every big college club last year, including Yale, Harvard, Columbia, Pennsylvania and Holy Cross. He is a wonder and is sure to make good.

"I have also another player—Thomas Stankard, whom I got from Holy Cross college—and will cause the fans to wag their tongues. Watch the Pirates from now on, and you will see what class is in baseball."

It was given out yesterday that the Pittsburgh club has purchased the release of Patsy Flaherty, the Carnegie boy, who has been pitching for the White Stockings. Flaherty is a left-hander, but has not been doing good work for the Chicago club as he was not satisfied with his surroundings.

Flaherty was under Fred Clarke in Louisville, but when the combination was formed with Pittsburg he became a member of the young and needed minor league experience. George Tebeau signed him for the Louisville club of the old Western league, and he was the star pitcher of that organization, making a remarkable record both in the box and at the bat. Last winter Flaherty pitched for the Rawlins college team in Florida, and was a good student at college. He is a young man of exemplary habits and should fit in well with the Pirates, as his ambition has always been to be with the Pittsburgh team.

DEMOCRATS HOPE TO PREVENT BOLT

Conservative Leaders Working to Guard Against Disruption at St. Louis.

NOT SURE ABOUT MR. BRYAN

Prominent Democrats in Washington are authority for the statement that the leaders of the party are striving to the end that the St. Louis convention shall be an orderly and dignified affair, one calculated to arouse the admiration and enlist the support of the public. Disappointed candidates are expected to pledge their word that they will not "rough house" the convention, bolt or kick up a rumpus of any sort. In short, all sensational features that usually imbue a Democratic convention with interest are to be eliminated, if possible.

These overtures are directed at the Bryan-Hearst outfit especially. Gorman, Guffey, Jones, Hill, Parker and all the other big guns of Democracy are for a quiet, orderly convention. They propose that the delegates shall assemble and vote for their candidates as long as they see fit, sticking to their favorite sons so long as appears advisable and proper. Then by the natural process of elimination they hope to have the race narrow down to the strongest candidates and eventually down to the winner.

They propose to give Mr. Bryan and his followers all that is coming to them. The free silver contingent is to be treated with consideration and respect, although it is to be whipped to a standstill in the end. But by being mild, though firm, the conservatives hope to avoid a split in the party and believe they can induce the radicals to climb into the band wagon and refrain from doing anything rude.

It is no secret that the Democratic convention was suddenly shifted from Chicago to St. Louis because the conservatives feared that if it was held in the former city Hearst might pack it with his howlers and marching clubs and carry off the nomination by force. But Hearst has now said that he will not bolt. He declares that he will swallow defeat and "go along." But the conservatives are not sure where Bryan is. If they can get a pledge from him that he will be docile and quiet in defeat, they can go into the convention with greater courage. A Democratic United States senator today discussed this subject seriously, and he solemnly declared that his friend the colonel's convention, if properly handled, could be conducted without a bolt or a single delegate being mobbed.

"DAMON AND PYTHIAS" HAS EXCELLENT REVIVAL

Melodrama at the Bijou That Pleases—Good Vaudeville at the Avenue.

Under the auspices of the local organizations of the Knights of Pythias a revival of this old tragedy was made at the Nixon theater last night and will be played throughout the week, with usual matinees, for the benefit of the order. There were many interesting features about the revival apart from the dramatic excellence that was revealed in several of the roles. Officers of the Knights occupied two flag-draped and decorated boxes, and here and there through the audience the uniform of the sir knights was to be seen. The week promises to see quite a gathering of the dignitaries of the order and many complimentary testimonials will be paid the players and those immediately in charge of the production. In addition to these pleasant features there will be quite a rendezvous of Pythian visitors at the Nixon during the week to give welcome to several strong local favorites. Chief among these is Mrs. Lizzie Hudson Collier, who was so popular as leading woman with the Grand stock company several years ago. William Beach, Edward Donnal and Miss Lida McMillan, also ex-members of the stock company, while Mr. McKim, Mr. Black, Mr. Stein and Mr. Shaw are well known in Pittsburgh. Last night there was something of an ovation for each of the favorites, Mrs. Collier and her confreres being called on for speeches, while many beautiful flowers were passed over the footlights.

The old tragedy is hardly the sort of play to awaken enthusiasm in these modern, theater-going days. It is stilted in dialogue and exceedingly crude in structure, but in the days when play acting was largely oratorical it was a great medium for the tragedians, but our modern actors make rather a sorry mess of it. Mr. McKim plays Damon with some limitations. His reading is not always intelligent and there are times when he is excessively stagey, even for the stagey role. Mr. Beach plays Pythias well at times. Mr. Sheridan Black's Dionysius is one of the best characterizations in the play. Mr. Poland's Philistus is also capable, as is Wilbur Hudson's Democles, the Procles of Mr. Shaw and the Lucullus Polly Stein. Mrs. Collier is the same gracious actress, a little stouter grown, but clear voiced and charming as ever. Miss Lida McMillan plays Hermion finely and displays marked advance as an actress. Little Dorothy Mair makes a charming boy. In costuming and settings the play is given careful attention, and barring a little mixture of architecture, is very handsomely put forward. On the whole the performance is creditable and the players labor earnestly with the difficulties of a play that is out of harmony with modern tastes.

Avenue—Vaudeville.

A moderately pleasing vaudeville bill is offered at the Avenue theater this week, a bill that is sure to please the novice in vaudeville shows, but one that the habitue of the form of entertainment will be as sure to call conventional. The Elinore sisters do a silly little act, in which the Irish biddy business is the one redeeming feature. In Irish character work one of the sisters is a modified type of the Russell brothers. The act pleased immensely, however. Frederick Brothers and Burns give a comedy musical act that is one of the best seen on the local stage for a long time. It is both original and musical, a tribute not always possible to the musical turn. Vernon is technically and vocally a fine ventriloquist. He does not introduce so much business as Reynard, who was at this house last week, but he is by far Reynard's superior in the control and pitch of his "invisible voice." Little Marjorie Barrett, a local favorite, and a really talented child, pleased greatly with songs and dances. Harry Parker's dogs are sure to please the little ones, for he has some remarkably intelligent animals in the group. Stewart Barnes made good with his monologue and parodies, but he should cut Lincoln's name out of his list of imitated men. It is decidedly a case where "comparisons are odious," especially to patriotic pride. The Rozinos are seen in their astonishing bounding table act, while the Gleasons repeat their excellent dancing act, with Fred Pelham as the pianist. The bill is not great, but good.

Bijou—"Why Girls Leave Home."

When Fred Summerfield wrote the piece which is being presented at the Bijou this week he selected a long title. He named it "Why Girls Leave Home; or, a Danger Signal on the Path of Folly." As for answering the query suggested he might as well have called it "Why Girls Chew Gum." He made no attempt toward an answer, but wanted a title that would draw the crowds, and in this he has been signally successful. Two packed houses greeted the company at the Bijou yesterday and the people indicated that they were pleased. "Why Girls Leave Home" is interpreted by a company that is better than those seen in the average melodrama. The scenes shift conveniently around New York and afford the scene painter abundant opportunities for elaborate work. Even in modern melodrama, however, there should be some limit to the license of place and costume. It is pretty hard to believe that members of New York society would venture on the street in broad daylight in evening clothes and a straw hat. It is equally hard to think of young men insisting on giving a dinner at the same time of day in a fashionable cafe. These little things mar what otherwise would be a fairly creditable and realistic performance. The singing of Anna Marie Schaeffer in the second act is the feature of the play, and is a quality that deserves much praise.

FROM KANSAS CITY TO GULF OF MEXICO

Work on C., B. & Q. Extension Will Soon Be Commenced.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

KANSAS CITY, June 6.—Preliminary arrangements for extending the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad from Kansas City to the Gulf of Mexico have progressed to a point where the final location and actual construction of the road will soon be commenced. A dispatch from Austin, Tex., confirms the statement that representatives of the Burlington have been actively at work in Texas for several months, obtaining bonus contracts and right-of-way.

It is said that the new line will, for a considerable distance, traverse the same territory which was to have been covered by the Rock Island's proposed extension to Galveston. The new line will be a grain-carrying road, and will be an important factor in the transportation of wheat from the Burlington northwest territory to the gulf.

The convention represents all the organized women's garment workers in the United States and Canada. President Benjamin Schlesinger, in his annual report, advocated more attention to political affairs and defended sympathetic strikes. The secretary-treasurer stated that many locals of the garment workers' unions have disbanded because they have not received financial aid in time of strikes.

LACK OF CRATES MEANS DEARTH OF STRAWBERRIES

LOUISVILLE, KY., June 6.—On account of the scarcity of crates strawberry shipping from Louisville and New Albany, which has been something enormous, will probably collapse after today. The crop is the most abundant in years. The shipments last night amounted to 31 carloads, aggregating 120,000 gallons, the largest ever sent from New Albany in one day. There will be no more large shipments and thousands of gallons of fine strawberries will rot in the fields.

SOCIETY

THE recent return of Miss Rebekah Page Knox from Europe, and the announcement by her father and mother, Attorney General and Mrs. Philander C. Knox, of her engagement to James Robert Tindle while abroad, added to the interest which the invited guests took in Mrs. Edward Hanna Small's luncheon yesterday afternoon, at her home in North Negley avenue, East End. Miss Alice Wood Tindle shared the duties of hostess with her sister, Mrs. Small, and a second guest of honor was Miss Mary Slattery of New York, who arrived in Pittsburgh on Sunday morning with Mrs. Small, and is her house guest. Miss Knox came on to be a member of the bridal party at the wedding last Saturday of Miss Mary Leet Williams and Frank Faber Brooks, spent Sunday with Mrs. Small and Miss Tindle, and this morning will return east to join her father and mother at their country place, Valley Forge. The wedding of Miss Knox and Mr. Tindle will take place in the fall. Miss Slattery will spend several weeks in Pittsburgh as the guest of Mrs. Small, whom she accompanied home from the east.

The luncheon yesterday was a very pretty affair. The decorations consisted of long vases and white peonies and the place cards were exquisite water color sketches of peonies, upon one petal of each flower appearing the name of the guest. The guests were seated at one long table, which was placed in the dining room, and at three smaller round tables, each seating six, which were in the parlor. Upon the long table was a centerpiece of peonies, while on the smaller tables were silver vases of the flowers. Covers were laid for 28, and among the guests were Miss Mary L. Jackson, Miss Julia Morgan Harding, Miss Mary Maxwell, Miss Marguerite Singer, Miss Alice Haworth, Miss Grace Taylor, Miss Clara Hussey, Mrs. Ralph Albree, Mrs. Harton Singer, Mrs. Percy Van Dusen, Mrs. William H. Siviter, Mrs. Robert Kelly, Mrs. Samuel Shoemaker and Mrs. Alexander R. Peacock.

From Authors and Artists.

A collection of books, 40 volumes, bound in the various colors of the rainbow, some in somber tints, indicating the serious tone of their contents, and others appearing in bright now dress, inviting a closer inspection of their worth, will be sent today to Miss Martha H. Childs in South Linden avenue. They are the books which bear the autographs of their authors and will be sold at auction on Friday afternoon and evening for the benefit of the Children's hospital. The porch sale of Miss Childs' home, of which the auction of autographed books and pictures will be an important feature, will be conducted from 2 o'clock until 7, and in addition to the books there will be photographs of celebrities signed by the original subjects, together with a special sale of hand-spun quilts and table covers from Berea college, Kentucky, Marie Stuart caps for a dreamer wear, automobile caps and rag dolls from Indianapolis.

Some of the inscriptions in the books autographed by their authors are extremely interesting. In a copy of the "Story of a Bad Boy" the author, Thomas Bailey Aldrich, wrote: "The best wishes of Tom Bailey go with this volume." In "A Captured Santa Claus" is found: "To my gentle reader who may be an American, Hamlin Garland." In "Lyrics of Lowly Life" appears over the signature of the writer, Paul Lawrence Dunbar: "If I wrote better I should write more." The letter which Mr. Dunbar sent was most pathetic, speaking of his illness and financial weakness. It is not generally known that Paul Lawrence Dunbar, the negro poet, is dying of consumption.

Over his name John Kendrick Bangs inscribed in "The House Boat on the Styx:" "This is No. 3,463,227 of a special edition limited to 904,310,107,403 copies." The author wrote in one copy of "A Sensational Psychology:" "With the compliments of Carolyn Wells," and in another, "To anyone who loves nonsense, with the best wishes of Carolyn Wells."

There are three copies of "Hugh Wynne," two being signed with the name of S. Weir Mitchell and the third "Yours truly, Hugh Wynne of Merion." "Strength for the Fight," Paul Lawrence Dunbar," is the inscription in "Lyrics of the Hearthstone." In "Inventions of an Idiot" appears the following: "Faithfully yours, The Idiot, by John Kendrick Bangs, private secretary."

In the copy of "The Rough Riders" the following is seen: "With the regards of Theodore Roosevelt." "The Adventures of Francois" shows merely the autograph of the writer, S. Weir Mitchell. Dr. David R. Breed gave a copy of "Idiot" "At the request of Mrs. Frederick Hymn Tunes" and inscribed on its opening pages is: "In view of the circumstances, I think this book might be entitled 'Him and Her Tunes.' With my compliments, David R. Breed."

Several copies of "Emmy Lou" have been signed by the author, George Madden Martin of the Anchorage, Ky., who wrote in answer to the request for her autograph: "It is a pleasure this morning when in the city to mail you a copy of my book, 'Emmy Lou,' for your sale of books. It's very harassing to the feelings one's first book is to the sophisticated vanity that the fore pages of 'Emmy Lou' seem to be of blotting paper. I've never been able to autograph in some 100 copies, more or less, of my book without a shame Emmy Lou pride. I shall be most glad to autograph any copy you may desire, but feel I would like to send one, at least, for myself."

In response to a request for Thomas Bailey Aldrich's autograph, his secretary, G. L. Simonds wrote: "Mr. Aldrich requests me to say that he will be very glad to autograph two of his books for the benefit of the 'Bad Boys' of the Pittsburgh Free hospital."

School Girls in Shakespearean Play.

A full dress rehearsal of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be held on Wednesday afternoon, the rehearsal preceding the giving of the play by the girls in Miss Gleim's school on Thursday evening for the benefit of the Children's hospital. The play will be given out of doors. The musical program will be exceptionally good and will include selections from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream," arranged by Miss Lillian Gleim. The cast for the play is as follows:

Theseus, Jean Evans; Philostrate, C. Nevris; Demetrius, M. Biggert; Lysander, Louise Scaogg; Titania, Frances Hoge; Hermia, Phalla Gruver; Snug, Helen McAteer; Bottom, Helen Arundel; Snout, Christine Swensson; Starveling, Elizabeth Stuart; Hypolyta, Marie Blackmore; Oberon, Frances Harper; Puck, Florence Power; Fairy, Madeline McClintock; Peaseblossom, Alice Brown; Cobweb, Rachel Chantler; Moth, Marie Hood; Mustard Seed, Elizabeth Sneed.

The dance of the shepherdesses will be a particularly pretty feature, the little shepherdesses being Ruth Edwards, Florence Hogg, Susie Hoffman, Jane Lazear, Louis Mitchell, Margaret Eaton Brown, Margaret Larker, Virginia Schulty, Margaret Sheldon, Carolyn Curll, Rebecca Thorn, Louis Haymaker, Charity Parker, Ethel Spencer, Margaret Biggert, Elsie McIntyre, Clara Morris and Kate Spencer. The fairies and flower girls in attendance upon Titania will be Marjorie Dick, Mildred Griffin, Elizabeth Rodgers, Elizabeth McCreary, Margaret Parker, Martha Sheldon, Rebecca Thorn, Ruth Edwards, Florence Hogg, Jane Lazear, Louise Mitchell, Charity Parker, Virginia Schulty, Ethel Spencer and Margaret Brown.

The play will be given at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening at Miss Gleim's school, in South Negley avenue. The patronesses are the members of the visiting committee of the Children's hospital.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Faulkner, the home of Mrs. James Asdale, aunt of the bride, in Walnut street. LEGAL NOTICES.

LAWRENCE P. MONAHAN, Attorney-at-Law, No. 433 Fourth ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. In the court of common pleas of Allegheny county. In the matter of the petition of Clarence Pettit for decree of satisfaction of a mortgage. No. 840 June term, 1904. To Peter J. Maitland, or the heirs or legal representatives of Peter J. Maitland, or James Riddle, or the heirs or legal representatives. Take notice that the petition of Clarence Pettit respectfully represents: That he is the owner of a certain lot or piece of ground situate in the Fourth ward of the city of Allegheny, formerly Ross township, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, being the same land described in a certain mortgage given by Robert Dunlap to Peter J. Maitland, dated the 3d day of May, 1839, acknowledged the 4th day of May, 1839, and recorded in the office for the records of deeds, etc., in and for said county in Mortgage Book, vol. 7, page 526, calling for the payment of $1,869 in the following manner, to-wit: $623 on or before the 1st day of October, 1839; $623 on or before the 1st day of October, 1840; $623 on or before the 1st day of May, 1841, with interest from November 1, 1838, payable annually, and assigned of record on July 7, 1840, to one James Riddle.

The said lot of ground as described in said mortgage is as follows: A certain lot or piece of ground situate in Reserve tract, Ross township, opposite the Northern Liberties of Pittsburgh, being lot No. 24 in plan of lots laid out by G. E. Warner and Jacob Painter, containing in front on Canal street fifty (50) feet, and extending back to a street fifty (50) feet wide.

That the money secured to be paid by said mortgage has been due much more than 21 years before the date of this petition, and no payment or demand for payment of principal or interest has been made on account of said mortgage debt within 21 years prior to the date of this petition by the present owners or by any purchaser in title, nor has the same so far as known been recognized in any manner whatever within said period of 21 years or for a much longer period.

That said mortgage has not been satisfied, released or otherwise discharged.

Petitioner knows no person or persons now or interested in said mortgage, except the mortgagee, Peter J. Maitland, about whom petitioner can ascertain no knowledge whatever, except that there is a presumption that he died many years ago, and James Riddle, assignee under said mortgage, who died many years ago, and the names and residences of his heirs, as well as of the heirs of Peter J. Maitland, are unknown to petitioner.

And now, to-wit, May 14, 1904, the within petition presented in open court, and ordered to be filed, and the 16th day of June, 1904, at 10 o'clock a. m., is fixed as the time for the hearing and disposing of said petition. Now, therefore, I, James W. Dickson, sheriff of Allegheny county, hereby gives notice to all persons interested in the mortgage mentioned in said petition who can be found within the county, and to all parties interested in said mortgage whose residences are unknown, by publication in The Pittsburgh Gazette once a week for four weeks, requiring them to be and appear in this court on the 16th day of June, 1904, at 10 o'clock a. m. to answer said petition, or show cause why the prayer thereof should not be granted; and the rule described in said mortgage released and discharged from said mortgage and its payments.
JAMES W. DICKSON,
Sheriff of Allegheny County.

IN RE PETITION OF ROBERT B. WARD, for satisfaction of mortgage. In the court of common pleas No. 2 of Allegheny county, No. 530, July term, 1904. To the heirs and legal representatives of Alexander McKenzie and George McKenzie, late of Beaver county, Pa., deceased. Take notice, that Robert B. Ward has presented his petition to the above named court, at the above number and term, averring that on the 4th day of December, 1863, John Tiernon made his certain mortgage to Alexander McKenzie and George McKenzie for $4,000, on certain property then situated in Pitt township, (now in the Thirteenth ward of the city of Pittsburgh), Allegheny county, containing 17 acres 106 perches, as in said mortgage more fully described, which mortgage was duly recorded in the recorder's office of Allegheny county, in Mortgage Book vol. 89, page 459. That said mortgage was fully paid and discharged more than twenty years before the making of said application, but was not properly satisfied of record; that petitioner is now the owner of parts of the property described in said mortgage, and praying that the court will order said mortgage to be satisfied according to law. You are therefore required to appear at the next term of said court on first Monday, July 4, 1904, and answer said petition and show cause, if any you can, why the prayers thereof should not be granted. James W. Dickson, sheriff of Allegheny county. J. M. Shields, attorney for petitioner, 503 Fifth ave., Pittsburgh.

ONE LOW-PRICED STOCK DOMINATED THE MARKET

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

While there was a moderate increase in transactions on the New York stock exchange yesterday, it was due to the activity in one stock. Out of a total of 231,400 shares for all stocks, 124,500 shares consisted of Ontario & Western. To give an idea of the extent to which this stock dominated the market, it may be stated that during the first two hours Ontario & Western contributed 110,000 shares to a total of 170,000 shares for all stocks. No such buying has been witnessed for many months, and it naturally attracted attention. One house took 30,000 shares during the first hour, advancing the price 2 per cent to 25. A period of dullness then ensued, but the price reacted only a small fraction. Toward the end of the session there was a renewal of the buying on a large scale and the price rallied at the close to 25½, the highest of the year. The movement was ascribed by a few traders to speculation for the purpose of stimulating some activity in the remainder of the list. This view is hardly tenable, and the movement did not help other stocks. Among the many rumors current was one that buying was in the interest of Canadian Pacific for the purpose of giving that road an entrance into New York. Another was that Pennsylvania was interested, and a third that New York Central desired to obtain a controlling interest. The movement had all the signs of competitive buying. It is hardly probable that the mystery will be cleared up on the street, and with public apathy as complete as it ever gets, the professional traders would take up a stock like Ontario & Western and make of it a market leader.

The tone of the rest of the list was rather heavy, although as a rule fluctuations were very narrow in the standard railroad stocks. In fact the only other important feature was the weakness of Chicago Great Western, another low-priced stock. The common declined to 13¼, the lowest for two years, and the preferred "A" stock broke to 47½, which compares with 71 last January. The company reported a decrease in gross earnings for the fourth week in May of $25,000 and a decrease for the month of $87,000, but the real cause for the decline in the common was weakness in the preferred, which was thought to foreshadow unfavorable dividend action. Rock Island was another weak feature, selling down to 19¾, which is within a fraction of the low point of the year. St. Paul and Atchison moved within a very narrow range, while Union Pacific declined to and closed at 82¾ on the announcement that the Harriman interests had filed an amended petition in the Northern Securities suit, which was considered as meaning that litigation might be indefinitely prolonged.

U. S. Steel preferred opened firmer at 83⅝ and advanced to 83¾ but subsequently declined to 83⅛ and closed near the lowest. Amalgamated Copper also opened firmer at 49½, advanced to 50⅛, but lost all the gain and closed at 49 bid. The annual meeting of the company was held at Jersey City and the retiring board of directors were re-elected, the proxies in the hands of the management representing 1,940,000 shares out of a total of 1,638,000 shares. The preponderance of the vote in favor of a board which gives its stockholders absolutely no information is an evidence either of great confidence or of a majority of the stock being held by insiders.

Aside from the numerous railroad reports we have to hand, notably the gross earnings in the fourth week in May and net earnings for April, there was little news having a bearing upon values. London prices for American securities were irregular, and foreigners were credited with selling between 8,000 and 10,000 shares.

A feature of the money market was the reported offering of six months' loans in the New York market by western banks as low as 3½ per cent. This was regarded as significant, in view of the fact that the crop-moving demand is only two months off.

Commodity markets were lower, cotton, wheat and corn declining on reported improvement in weather conditions.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange the market was at a standstill. The sales foot up only 768 shares stock, $8,000 bonds and $815 scrip, and the large fluctuation in price was a decline of ¼ in Rive Coal preferred, which sold at 24. Nearly one-half the business was in Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which declined to 54½ and closed at that price bid. At the bank call prices were unchanged.

Capital Stock Increased.

At a special meeting of stockholders of the Diamond National bank yesterday the proposition was approved to increase the capital stock from $500,000 to $600,000. The 1,000 shares of new stock are to be sold at $400, payable in four quarterly installments of $100 each on July 1, October 1, January 1 and April 1. Of the proceeds of the new stock $300,000 will be added to the surplus account, and when full paid the bank's capital will be $600,000 and its surplus $1,900,000. William Price is president, D. C. Will cashier and W. O. Phillips assistant cashier of the bank.

At the present time the Diamond National is erecting a handsome home at the corner of Fifth and Liberty avenues.

N. Y. Savings Bank Investments.

Since the savings banks of New York state were given authority to invest 25 per cent of their deposits in railroad bonds, there has been a decrease in the proportion of all other bonds held, excepting city bonds of other states. The big decrease has been in government bonds. At the beginning of 1898 the savings bangs had nearly one-seventh of their deposits invested in United States bonds. At the beginning of this year the proportion had been reduced to the one-sixtieth. The following table shows the changes:

	Jan. 1, '04	Pct.	Jan. 1, '98	Per.
U. S. bonds	$ 18,687,880	1.49	$100,708,459	13.46

Tot. inv.	$1,099,987,362		$747,743,675

Under the law the banks can have one-quarter of their deposits invested in railroad bonds. A quarter of the deposits at the beginning of this year was $274,960,840. The railroad investments were $177,444,224, leaving a margin of $97,552,616.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The only feature of the local stock market aside from its dullness is the absence of selling pressure. There is supposed to be a short interest in Pittsburgh Coal preferred, but every time the stock is offered down there is a buyer for it, so that the decline does not make much headway. It is the only stock in which some pressure is occasionally seen, and it is apparently the only stock, save possibly Westinghouse Electric, that seems to be supported. The rest of the market is left to take care of itself, and the absence of either buying or selling is the only prominent feature.

National Biscuit preferred had an initial sale on the local board yesterday, 50 shares changing hands at 106¼. It is one of the few industrials that is still quoted at a premium.

A private sale of 10 shares Duquesne National bank was reported at 275, which compares with 280, the last previous sale in August, 1903. The stock is closely held and is seldom quoted.

A sale of Fayette County Gas was reported at 77.

There were no transactions in Westinghouse Electric yesterday, the stock being quoted at 77 bid, 77⅛ asked. A small lot of Airbrake sold at 127½, a decline of ½. Action on the Airbrake dividend is scheduled for this week.

North Side Bridge 6s were quoted at 95 and accrued interest bid. Brewing 6s were ¾ higher at 114.

The estimated gross earnings of the Philadelphia Company and affiliated corporations for May, 1904, are $1,262,690, a decrease of $5,388 as compared with May, 1903.

The gross earnings of Hocking Valley for the last week in May decreased $65,389.

Diamond Savings was offered on call at 190 and 190 was bid. The stock was originally issued at $200 a share, the premium being placed to surplus account.

Gross earnings of Southern Railway for the month of May increase $62,000. For the fourth week in May the gross earnings of Wheeling & Lake Erie decreased $85,000.

The gross earnings of Pittsburgh Oil & Gas for the year ended March 31, last, were $1,800,000, and the surplus after interest and dividends, $450,000.

Sterling exchange yesterday advanced to the highest point of the year, but no gold was engaged for export.

The Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on its preferred stock and a dividend of 2 per cent on its common stock. This is an increase of 2 per cent for the six months on the latter issue. The company has paid quarterly dividends of 1¼ per cent on its preferred stock since 1892. Dividends at the rate of 2½ per cent per annum on the comon stock were begun in 1898. The next year the rate was increased to 3½ per cent and in 1900 to 4½, in 1901 to 5½, while in 1902 and 1903 the rate was 6 per cent per annum. This latest increase of 2 per cent for the half year on the common stock places that issue on the same basis as to dividends as the St. Louis & San Francisco agreed to pay on its trust certificates issued in exchange for the common stock of the Eastern Illinois Company in 1902. A very large portion of both the preferred and common stock of the latter company has been thus exchanged and consequently this increase in common stock dividend materially increases the income of the Frisco company. It would seem that the dividend, so long as conditions permit, will be maintained at the same rate, which would be 10 per cent per annum.

The gross earnings of Louisville & Nashville for the fourth week in May decreased $76,000.

Referring to the market leader yesterday, a Wall street item says: "Ontario & Western continued the market leader, closing at about top with further accumulation by railroad interests, who evidently fear that the dissolution of the voting trust would imperil their share in the control. These are New York Central and Delaware & Hudson. Just how much stock they care to accumulate in order to assure a foothold is a matter of guess. To many persons an independent coal railroad like Ontario, whose shares are low priced, appeals as an investment with a possibility of a future dividend, and it is quite likely the rise may be carried quite a little further. It were folly to fix a figure, because it generally stimulates an abnormal demand for stock."

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The entire payment of $1,300,000 for stock in the Lake Superior & Pittsburgh Mining Company was in hand at the headquarters of this company Tuesday afternoon. The time for payment expired the following night. The company will now proceed to develop its mines at Bisbee. A third shaft will be started and large pumping capacity will be provided to take care of the water that is beginning to make in shaft No. 2 more rapidly than it can be easily raised. Smelting facilities will also be arranged for in a short time. The company expects to develop three or four large mines upon its grounds at Bisbee. This is the third, and next to the last, of the Calumet & Arizona group of properties that have financed into mines.

A fourth dividend on Calumet & Arizona is due and payable on June 20, amounting to $300,000. This makes, even a million dollars the company will have paid in nine months, or just half its capital stock. In the same time it has earned and put aside a surplus fund of $1,900,000, and will probably increase its dividends next September.

George Maas of Negaunee, Mich., and one of the fee owners of the Negaunee Mine there, has taken a group of claims north of Bisbee, and will explore them for copper. Indications are excellent and Mr. Maas is enthusiastic over his prospects. Associated with him are a number of iron ore men from the Lake Superior region and Milwaukee. He has paid about $100,000 for the claims, which are in a compact group and show considerable copper and iron dykes in the limestone formation, a district very similar to that of Bisbee itself.

At a meeting of the directors of the Wolverine & Arizona Development Company, operating in the Bisbee mining camp, Arizona, an assessment of $2 50 per share was decided upon. It will provide $95,000 for development purposes and another payment on the property. The Wolverine & Arizona is one of the many companies organized by Lake Superior people in the past few years to develop Arizona mining properties.

Articles of incorporation of the Duluth & Chiricahua Development Company have been filed with the secretary of the state of Minnesota. The company is capitalized for $700,000 in 70,000 shares. The incorporators are Edward F. Siveney, George H. Crosby and Byron M. Pattison, all of Duluth. A group of claims adjoining the property of the Chiricahua Development Company in the Chiricahua range of mountains, Cochise county, Ariz., has been secured and will be developed.

An assessment of $1 a share has been called by the Higgins Development Company. The payment becomes due June 10, and will provide $50,000. Work on the property in the Warren district of Arizona is steadily advancing. Prospects are considered favorable, but no ore bodies of consequence have been opened.

The starting of another shaft a few days ago by the Calumet & Hecla to tap the Kearsarge amygdaloid marks another link, not the final link in the chain of remarkable developments on this wonderful formation in the past few years. The Kearsarge belt has furnished many agreeable surprises in the past; that it will furnish some more is reasonably assured. More than ordinary significance is attached to the new work of the Calumet & Hecla Company. It will not only serve for the exploration of a large portion of its property, but prove, to a considerable extent, the prospects of the Osceola Consolidated Mining Company developing another mine on the Kearsarge, the new one on the old Osceola property.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The London tin market was 15s lower at £122 7s 6d for spot and £122 for futures. With demand light locally, prices responded to the declines abroad and the market closed easy at $27 00@27 15. Copper also was easier abroad, closing at a decline of 2s 6d to £56 2s 6d for both spot and futures. Locally, copper was dull. Lake is quoted at $12 87½ and electrolytic at $12 62½@12 87½, and casting at $12 37½@12 50. Lead was easier in the local market and a shade lower, with spot closing at $4 25@4 35. In the London market, however, it was a little firmer, closing at an advance of 2s 6d to £13 13s 9d. Spelter was lower in both markets, declining 2s 6d to £22 in London, and closing easy at $4 75@4 87½ in the New York market. Iron closed at 51s 6d in Glasgow and 48s 11½d in Middlesboro. Locally iron was easier. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $14 50@15 00; No. 2 foundry northern at $14 00@14 50. No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern soft at $13 50@13 75. Pig iron warrants were weak at $9 00.

TWO GOOD SALES START THE WEEK

Allegheny Corner Brings $55,000 and a Shadyside Lot Is Sold for $50,000.

EAST END SALE OF $25,000

Price records in Allegheny were again broken yesterday by the sale of the property at the southeast corner of Federal street and Montgomery avenue for $55,000 cash. The property has been owned for some years by the Monongahela Insurance Company, and was purchased by Joseph Craig, the oil operator, through the office of E. H. Culbertson. It is known as 920 and 922 Federal street, and measures 40x110 feet, running back to Murtland alley. The corner is occupied by a two-story brick building tenanted by a drug store and a laundry. In the rear of this building, facing Montgomery avenue, is a three-story modern brick building used for flats.

The corner is one of the best business sites in Allegheny which may account for the price, $1,375 a foot, paid for the Federal street frontage. The last sale in this vicinity was that of the Munden property, on the opposite side of Federal street, near Erie street, which was sold by Edward Vogler to Joseph Renyers.

Choice Locality in Sewickley.

Makes Addition to His Grounds.

Joseph Wood, second vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, has purchased from J. W. Cheswright and W. P. Fraser the property at the northwest corner of Ellsworth and Amberson avenues, Twentieth ward, for $50,000 cash. The sellers secured the property, which is known as the Dr. Bingaman lot, several months ago in an exchange deal for a warehouse in Wood street near First avenue. Since then persistent rumors have been afloat that a big apartment house would be erected on the site. Mr. Wood's purchase prevents the possibility of this as the lot adjoins his fine holdings on the north side of Ellsworth avenue, directly across from Robert Pitcairn's "Carnoague" home. The Bingaman lot measures 104x24 feet, and with the lot adjoining, gives Mr. Wood a frontage of 280 feet in Ellsworth avenue running back to the property of A. H. Childs. The Wood residence is a fine house, and the new lot will doubtless be improved in a way to make an attractive addition to the beautiful grounds surrounding it. Nothing more than a square from Shadyside academy and across from the fine McClintock residence. The deal is credited to the firm of Liggett & Lennox.

Price Record for Penn Avenue.

Through the office of J. N. Straub & Co., of the East End, 5629 Penn avenue has been sold to Edward Miles, formerly of San Francisco, for $25,000. It is known as the Martin lot, and was purchased from the Beechwood Improvement Company, Limited. The lot is 25x145 feet, on the south side of Penn avenue between St. Clair street and Negley avenue, and extends through to Kirkwood street. It is improved with a three-story building erected six years ago, the lower floor of which is rented for store rooms and the upper floor for flats. The price is the highest yet paid for property in this square, the best figure previously being about $900 a front foot, and the average for the deals of the last two years being between $700 and $800 a foot for the Penn avenue frontage.

New evidence that eastern money lenders are getting a firm hold in this city among real estate investors comes to light every week. The last case in point is the securing of a loan of $15,000 by J. M. Loose, the well-known Swissvale operator, on his residence at Liberty and Winebiddle avenues. The property is valued at $35,000, and the size of the loan together with the fact that it was made at the rate of only 5 per cent, shows that local lenders are not offering as good terms as eastern firms.

Bowling Alley Cost $15,000.

Frank Huckestein, the Allegheny druggist, and other North Side business men composing the Federal Bowling club, have awarded the contract to Emanuel Semler, of Allegheny, for a one-story brick and stone building, 66x122 feet, to be erected on the west side of Federal street at the end of the Sixth street bridge. The foundations are under way and it has been started, will cost $15,000. Four large store rooms and two bowling alleys will occupy the frontage. The alleys will be provided with deadened floors and will be among the best in that city. Some of the men composing this club are largely interested in the Allegheny Social club, which is just completing a three-story club house and amusement hall in Concord street at a cost of $25,000.

The foundations have been started for the three-story building which Henry Phipps will erect at Sixth street and Duquesne way, opposite the Bessemer building. The building will contain three store rooms, and in the center is a wide entrance to the Hyde & Behman theater in the rear.

The White plan of lots in Sewickley is building up in a way that assures a good increase in values soon. Lingelt & Leitzinger have completed three reception hall houses, costing $4,500 each, in Chadwick avenue, between Walnut and Ferry streets. Six other houses, to cost about $5,000 each will be started this month.

Building Projects Ready for Bids.

The following projects are on the boards of local architects for bids this week: Sturthers & Hannah have a two-story addition, 25x90 feet, to the Sunday school room of the Sixth United Presbyterian church at North Highland avenue and Harvard street, to cost $25,000. Charles Hegan & Co. have a $4,000 residence for H. C. Elste at Hawley and Bayne avenues, Bellevue; George Fritz has two three-story brick apartment houses in Bausman street, Knoxville, to cost $15,000; Eichenlaub & Madden have a three-story brick printing establishment for Pierpont, Stviter & Co., in Shady avenue.

These contracts have been awarded during the last few days: C. Hamilton to P. E. McGillick a three-story brick apartment house in Millvale avenue, to cost $20,000; C. L. Phillis to L. Benz Brothers, a brick addition to a store building at 1501-1503 Carson street, Saw Mills, to cost $10,000; MacClure & Spahr, to the Henry Shenk Company, a two-story fire proof passenger station in Carson street for the Monongahela Incline Plane Company, to cost $15,000; Mrs. Sarah A. Kelly to R. F. Downing, a residence in Wallingford street to cost $12,000.

Architects Vrydaugh & Wolfe are preparing plans for a brick and stone church to cost $30,000 for the Avalon Presbyterian congregation.

Choice Locality in Sewickley.

Sewickley: George Brothers sold for Charles McKnight and Henry A. Davis to Charles L. Doyle, 90x150 feet on the southeast side of Cochrane lane, near Centennial avenue, Sewickley, for $4,000. Within the last two months this firm has sold six lots in this street which are being improved with houses costing from $10,000 to $20,000 each.

Lang avenue: E. H. Stoner sold to J. S. Rumbaugh, an improved lot, 72x170 feet, in Lang avenue near Bennett street, Twenty-first ward, for $4,500.

Rosedale avenue: C. L. Lollinger sold to Margaret R. Ralston, 40x88 feet in Rosedale avenue, thirteenth ward, for $2,500.

AFTER SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

Interesting Suit Filed in Kentucky for Taxes Amounting to $3,050,000.

LOUISVILLE, KY., June 6.—Revenue Agent Augustus Bizot today renewed, by filing another suit, the proceedings inaugurated by William Weller, Jr., during his term as revenue agent, against the Southern Pacific Railway Company, for back taxes on property worth $80,000,000. The suit instituted by Agent Weller resulted in a compromise, the company agreeing to pay taxes to the extent of $312,000.

Weller prayed the recovery of only $1,000,000 while Mr. Bizot asks for $3,050,000. This difference arises out of the fact that Mr. Bizot contends that the Southern Pacific is a holding company and that as its holding is in Kentucky it must pay taxes here on its holdings everywhere, including steamboat, steamship and railway lines over the world at large.

Financial and Commercial Briefs.

NEW YORK, June 6.—At the annual meeting of the Amalgamated Copper Company in Jersey City today proxies for 1,046,000 shares out of 1,538,000 shares in the company were present and all of the retiring directors were reelected. The official reports said that the company's affairs were harmonious.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The unusual activity and strength of New York, Ontario & Western stock during the early session of today's market gave rise to a variety of rumors dealing with the continuance or dissolution of the voting trust. President Fowler of the company said today: "The committee appointed to look into the protest of the stockholders who desire the dissolution of the voting trust has not yet reported and it is not due until the regular monthly meeting of the directors, the last Wednesday of this month."

NEW YORK, June 6.—Albert J. Pitkin, vice president and director of the American Locomotive Company, was elected president of the company to succeed the late Samuel R. Callaway, who died last week. W. M. Barnum, a director of the Pacific Coast Company, was elected a director of the company in the place vacant by Mr. Callaway's death. It was decided to increase the number of members of the executive committee from five to six. Mr. Barnum and Frederick H. Stevens were elected to membership in this committee. J. E. Sagus was elected president and retains the title of secretary of the company.

RICHMOND, VA., June 6.—Fire in the tobacco district of Danville yesterday morning destroyed three warehouses and 4,000,000 pounds of tobacco. The American Tobacco Company was the lessee of all the buildings. The estimated loss is $600,000, covered by insurance.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on its preferred stock, and a dividend of 5 per cent on its common stock. This is an increase of 2 per cent on the common from the latter issue and at the rate of 10 per cent per annum.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Fire early today destroyed the seven-story drug warehouse of McKesson & Robins in Ann street. The loss will reach $100,000.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices and ruled very quiet, in keeping with the early news, but was generally steady at unchanged prices on all positions except July and December, which were 5 points higher. Sales reported of 6,500 bags, including July at 6.55c, September at 6.75c, December at 6.05c and May at 6.55c. Sugar—Raw quiet; fair refining, 3 27-16c; centrifugal, 96 degrees test, 3 31-32c; molasses sugar, 3 3-16c; refined steady; crushed, 5.55c; powdered, 5.05c; granulated, 4.95c.

May Join Sabbath Association.

Representatives of the various ministerial associations met in the Central Y. M. C. A. building yesterday afternoon to act upon the recommendation made by the Rev. T. T. Mutchler of Philadelphia, secretary of the State Sabbath Association, who was here several weeks ago, urging a local branch of the organization. A suggestion was made that each association subscribe $200.

BUTTER IS THE SAME; NEW PEACHES ARRIVE

Rice Is Firm—Melons Are Moving Freely—Potatoes Are Still Scarce.

The Elgin telegram made no change in butter prices yesterday, although dealers would like to see quotations below what they are now in order to give an impetus to demand. There was no change in the egg situation yesterday, best stock commanding 18 and 18½ cents; southern stock sold anywhere from 15 to 17 cents. There was nothing new on cheese, both New York and Ohio of good quality being now in fairly good request.

No changes are made in grocery quotations. The demand for coffee is rather slack, but the market may be said to be steady at present quotations. Cablegrams state that the new crop is yielding less than expected and that the quality is not too good. It is thought that the out-turn of the coming Brazil crop will not exceed 9,000,000 bags. Accordingly, big advances may be expected on coffee inside of a few months. The rice market is firm with an upward tendency, but local jobbers are giving consumers the advantage of purchases on low prices. Demand is fair on flour.

The first peaches of the season arrived yesterday; they were from Florida; the stock is not too good at present, but will improve considerably during the next few days. Watermelons are moving freely but the supply of cantaloupes is still limited. Potatoes are scarce. No old stock has arrived since Saturday, about six cars of new came in yesterday. The arrival of strawberries was about 14 cars, including the shipments by express. Cabbage and pineapples are easier. The local hay market is looking better again, although arrivals are still heavy. Oats are firmer and prices are advanced. Shelled corn is quoted lower; millfeed is still holding up.

CEREALS TUMBLE ON CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

Optimistic Ideas on Both Foreign and Domestic Crops the Cause.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 6.—Optimistic ideas regarding both foreign and domestic crop prospects caused an almost constant decline in wheat today. At the finish July wheat showed a net loss of ¾c. Corn is off 1¼c; oats are down ¾@¾c. Provisions closed at an advance of 7½ to 20c.

Improved weather conditions and easier cables influenced wheat at the start. Weekly statistics also were a disappointment to the bulls. Initial quotations on July were ¼ to ½c lower at 87¾ to 88c. After selling down to 87¾@87¾c, the price rallied to 88¾c. The firmer feeling was due primarily to private advices regarding the crop situation in the southwest, a prominent firm having quite bullish reports from that section. While there was some buying on these reports, the majority of traders were skeptical as to the poor prospects, and the market soon developed renewed weakness.

Foreign news was extremely bearish, advices from France and India claiming crops to be in excellent condition. The disposition to sell was considerably augmented by the promising outlook for spring wheat in the northwest. There was also some selling of the relatively small decrease in the visible supply, the figures for this week showing a decrease of only 872,000 bushels, compared with a 2,630,000 bushels decrease last week. Weakness in corn was an added bear factor. After selling off to 87@87¼c July closed at 87¾c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 150,200 bushels. The amount on passage increased 672,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 422,200 bushels compared with 801,400 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 352 cars against 450 cars a year ago.

Exceedingly liberal receipts with prospects of still heavier movement were the principal causes of an extremely weak corn market. Trading was fairly active with influential interests arrayed on the selling side. The downward trend of prices was a natural result of decidedly bearish advices. Primary receipts were large and the visible supply increased over half a million bushels compared with a decrease of nearly a million and a half bushels last week. Another bear factor was an official forecast for better weather throughout the corn belt. The market closed almost at the lowest point of the session. July opened ¼@⅜ to ½@⅝c lower, at 49¼c to 49½c, sold between 48⅝@49¼c and closed at 48⅜@48½c. Local receipts were 837 cars, with 55 of contract grade.

Oats were easy but there was not much selling pressure on the market, and at the low prices showed only small losses. Better weather and weakness in other grains were the depressing influences, but right there most movement and small stocks curbed selling. July opened a shade to ¼@¼c lower at 39⅜ to 39¾c, ranged between 39¾@39½ and 39¾c, closing at 39¾c. Local receipts were 138 cars.

Provisions resisted the weakness of wheat and corn, buying by commission houses causing a firm tone. A decline in the price of hogs and liberal receipts of hogs at western points were against the market. The market closed at the top with September pork up 20c at $11 65. September lard was up 7½@ at $6 65. Ribs showed an advance of 10@12½c at $6 95@7 02½. Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 42 cars; corn, 855 cars; oats, 207 cars; hogs, 24,000 head.

CONSTABLES HAD A WORRIED LOOK

Peter Nock Questioned About an Alleged Gambling House in Penn Avenue.

GRAND JURY MAKES RETURN

Constable Peter Nock of the Fourth ward was given something closely approaching the "third degree" when he made his quarterly return at the opening of the quarter sessions court yesterday. Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., asked him many pointed questions about the reputation of the house at 409 Penn avenue, alleged to be a "swell" gambling place, where men of means and affairs are said to "buck the tiger" and drop thousands, where the attendants wear livery and where full dress clothes are the proper thing after 6 p. m. The constable knew nothing that amounted to anything, despite the fact that he had received some previous information about the place in the shape of a letter from the district attorney's office.

Nock acknowledged knowing that there was a house at 409 Penn avenue, but he did not know it was a gambling house. He said he had heard some talk and read certain newspaper reports but could learn nothing when he investigated.

Attorney Robb held the constable on the stand for a long time, growing direct with his questions. Nock denied that he had heard of certain matters mentioned in a letter from Mr. Robb. He investigated, he said, but could learn nothing further. Nock denied he knew the proprietor. Asked if he knew "Steve" Treator, he replied that he had heard of him.

Had Heard of Sharks.

Nock was asked if there were not uniformed servants at the house, and if he had not seen a porter in uniform let a man in evening dress enter. He answered negatively. As to the evening dress he said people went to the Hotel Lincoln in that attire and he did not regard it suspiciously. He said he had heard of "those sharks" who came over from New York, but thought the police had settled it in that case. During the examination Nock said he "couldn't take an ax and break into the house," for the law does not permit it.

Judge Frazer told Nock to report as to who owns the property and who the tenant is. He was also asked about gambling at 204 Sixth street, and a number of alleged speakeasies.

Constable Thomas Joyce, of the First ward, declared that the ward was clean. Constable W. J. Morris of the Second ward had a clear report, but was ordered to look into 427 Fourth avenue. Mr. Robb told him to be careful or he might see one of the men who run the place in the court room at the time. Constable Joseph Thompson of the Fifth ward was asked about 515 and 520 Wylie avenues. The constable of the Seventh ward said he had not returned a place because it was chartered. Judge Frazer told him to pay no attention to that, as the man who sold to any except legitimate members was violating the law. Constable Gray of the Eighth ward was asked about the Commercial club in Fulton street, and about 1420 Wylie avenue. The sale of wine by Italian grocers and restaurants keepers was also touched on. Some few returns were made of speakeasies in the East End.

In Allegheny the constables were no better informed and orders to investigate were numerous. Among the places to be looked into are, in the Second ward, the Alpine club; Third ward, the Minerva club; Fourth ward, the Saratoga club, the Washington Social club, 18 Lacock street and 106 Anderson street; Fifth ward, the Twin City Hunting club and Cyrus Coulters' shantyboat; Ninth ward, Mrs. Morgan's house, Mrs. Conway's house and the sales of a wholesale dealer; Fourteenth ward, the City View Outing club and the Spring Hill association. The court was very severe about the Twin City Hunting club, saying that if its information was correct, all the charter members of the club should be in the workhouse.

Ordered to Return Officers.

The township constables were questioned about the sale of liquor illegally, Sunday ball playing, slot machines and violations of the game laws. The constable of Robinson township was ordered to return the officers of a club for selling liquor illegally. The constable of Ross township was directed to look after a camp on the Scott farm and the constable of Kilbuck township is to investigate several clubs. The constable of Mifflin township was in ignorance about Sunday ball playing and beer drinking and was told to look again. The same state of affairs was true about Lower St. Clair township. A shantyboat bothered the constable of Crescent township and he must investigate further. The Chartiers township representative was unaware of speakeasies flourishing at Corks Run and was told to step at the district attorney's office, where he would be shown some letters that might enlighten him. A violation of the game laws was reported from Patton township, and the constable was ordered to prosecute.

The borough constables had plenty of information to give to the court, and to prevent any of the alleged offenders from escaping it was received in secrecy. This was the case with Duquesne, Braddock, Brackenridge, Clairton and other places. In Clairton the officers of several clubs are on the list. The constables of Wilmerding and Turtle Creek were ordered to bring in slot machines they reported there.

The grand jury for the June term of criminal court convened yesterday and each of the 23 jurymen appended a very unusual thing. Usually one or more does not answer the summons on account of death or removal from the county. A. J. Penrod was selected as foreman of the jury.

B. F. Jones, Jr., was one of the jurymen summoned, and he and George Patenbach, a horseshoer, asked to be excused. As their services were not needed, the request was granted.

The jury was charged by Judge Frazer, who instructed the jurymen to be careful in disposing of cases and be as speedy as possible, as the list is a large one.

For the first day's work the jury returned the following true bills: Felonious assault and battery, Caleb Davenport, Patrick Dolan, Edward Jarvis, burglary; Chelsey Cooper, Hazel Cooper, Lones Hall, S. A. Delaney (2); robbery, Patrick Feeney, C. E. Meyers, John Spilski, Ignas Szatkowski, William Poole, Harry Cohen, William Irvin; aggravated assault and battery, Richard Ratey, Stevens; Frank Bartmetler, Dan Keefer, Charles Golden, M. Price, Otto Metzinger, Newton Hughs (3), Albert Jones, Dan Talby, Harry Lewis, Earle Burlington, Albert Metz, Hays Jones (2), Alexander Sole, Matilda McClain, William Stanton, John Wilhelam; larceny from the person, T. Biemflick, Daniel Lee; attempted larceny from the person, James Ryan, Henry Kramer; pointing firearms, Peter Muchiey; misdemeanor, William E. Ferris.

In quarter sessions court bond in the sum of $5,000 was approved by the court for Dr. Nathan Penrose of Allegheny. Last Saturday Dr. Penrose was sentenced to serve three years in the penitentiary, having been convicted of a felony, and the bond was given so that an appeal could be carried to the superior court.

In the same court Mrs. Alice R. Montgomery, probation officer of the juvenile court, was given leave of absence for the remainder of the month. She asked to be excused from active duty so that she could attend the biennial conference of charities and correction, to be held at Portland, Me., June 15 to 22.

Miss Anna E. McCord of Allegheny was appointed to serve as a probation officer in the juvenile court. She has been assisting Mrs. Montgomery for the past six weeks.

GOLDEN WANTS CHILDREN.

Receiver of N. Schwartz Asks Order to Seize Goods Stored Under Ficticious Name.

Attorney William A. Golden yesterday began habeas corpus proceedings against his wife, Mary Elizabeth, whom he married in 1880, to recover possession of their seven children. Peter Golden, Jr., and Mary Irene live together at 316 Dinwiddie street, and on that date and on several days afterward she moved their furniture from the house, with the exception of some articles, and left him, taking the children with her. He says she is not mentally capable of caring for the children.

Samuel Finkelhorn, receiver in the bankruptcy case of Nathan Schwartz of Homestead, filed a petition in the United States district court asking for an order to seize certain goods and to restrain the bankrupt from removing them. He asserts that shortly before filing his petition in bankruptcy Schwartz carried away goods worth $1,500 and placed them, under a ficticious name, in a storage house; that the liabilities of over $10,000 were all incurred for merchandise within the last few months and that in the usual course of his business as a retail merchant the bankrupt could not have disposed of them in an honest way. A rule to show cause was granted.

Referee William Blair has filed an opinion refusing to order the trustee in the bankruptcy case of the Northern Furniture Company to repay money advanced by the receiver. He says there is no evidence of default on the part of the trustee. Both the creditor and the trustee lost money in settling the estate.

A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed by the Duquesne Brewing Company against Weber Bros. and A. Cohen against Antonio Moffat, a liquor dealer at 1237 Penn avenue. The claims amount to $5,658.

PLAINTIFF NOT SATISFIED.

Minnie Morrisey Asks a New Trial in Her Breach of Promise Suit.

The arguments in the motion for a new trial in the case of Minnie O. Morrisey of Cleveland against Leroy B. Beatty of this city, in which the jury awarded the plaintiff $500, were heard yesterday by Judge Buffington in the United States circuit court. Attorney Meredith R. Marshall contended that he proved the suit would never have been entered had Beatty remained single.

Attorney A. Leo Weil, for Beatty, was satisfied to leave his side of the case go without argument, but submitted a brief.

Arguments were also heard by Judge Buffington in the motion for a new trial made by the defendant in the suit of Marie E. Carpenter against the Pittsburgh Railways Company, in which the jury awarded the plaintiff $8,500 for personal injuries.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

J. A. Knadler, receiver of the Homestead Baking Company, has filed a report, showing that the plant earned a clear net profit of $583.81 during May.

G. G. O'Brien entered a $10,000 trespass suit against P. H. Butler as a result of the collapse of the plaintiff's building at 4929 Penn avenue, alleged to be due to the excavation on Butler's property, which adjoins.

TRENTON, N. J., June 6.—(Special.)—Counsel for Edward H. Harriman and Winslow S. Pierce today filed in the United States circuit court a second amended bill in the suit brought by them to restrain the carrying out of the proposed pro-rata plan of distribution of the assets of the Northern Securities Company.

The following executions were issued yesterday: S. A. Anderson vs. Delic Rodgers et al., $50 98; same vs. Nanie Johnson et al., $68 90; F. Lee Clark vs. Clara S. Hodleston, $14,941 18; Armenia Insurance Company vs. Tom Marshall et al., $4,767 78; Mary J. Glenn vs. John E. McCreery et al., $629 40; H. H. Schulte vs. E. H. Thiel, $435 60.

COAL TRADE IMPROVING.

President Mitchell of United Mine Workers Predicts Good Times for Two Years.

John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning on his way to attend the International Mining Congress in Paris, France, in August, and the British Trades Congress in October. He will be accompanied by Secretary William Dodds of this district. Mr. Mitchell said yesterday:

Indications point to a general improvement in the coal trade in a short time. With wages settled for two years, the outlook for the miners is very promising. The strike in the Ohio district has been settled and 8,000 men started to work this morning.

The international mining congress which we will attend as the first delegates ever sent from the United States has been held annually in different countries for several years. The object is to discuss matters of interest to miners, including ventilation laws, shorter working hours and independent political action of workmen in different countries.

An informal reception was tendered Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Dodds at the Hotel Henry last night. Mr. Mitchell left on the 3 o'clock train this morning for New York. Mr. Dodds will leave Thursday evening.

WISE WAS THREATENED BY ALLEGHENY WOMAN

Witnesses at Inquest Testify That He Was Afraid of Being Shot to Death.

After much evidence, nearly all of which tended to prove that shots had been fired by the woman, the coroner's inquest into the deaths of Irwin E. Wise and Mrs. Emma Schreiver, known as Kitty Craft, was adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The local manchinists' union, of which Wise was a member, is being represented at the inquest by its business agent in an effort to disapprove the original theory that Wise killed the woman and then committed suicide. The gold watch and diamond ring belonging to Wise, which were reported missing, were produced yesterday by the Allegheny police and turned over to the coroner.

Lieutenant of Police Dickson and Patrolmen Stemmlr and Fowler testified to finding the bodies and declared that Wise was lying in the hall, while the woman was in the room with the revolver lying within a few feet of her. Inmates of the house declared that they knew nothing of the cause leading to the shooting.

Charles Boyle of Knoxville swore that on the Friday preceding the tragedy Wise told him he was in constant fear of a woman who had threatened to kill him. Wise had said that the evening before, while he was putting a South Side woman on a street car at Sixth avenue and Smithfield street, "the woman from Allegheny" had suddenly appeared and threatened to kill him.

John Anderson, W. H. Hagan and John L. Camp, all friends of Wise, said the latter had told them of threats made by the "Allegheny woman."

TROLLEY LINE CHANGES.

West End Cars Will Run Down Third Instead of Seventh Avenue.

The Pittsburgh Railways Company is having a switch put in at Third avenue and Smithfield street, and one at Third avenue and Wood street, to be used by the West End cars. Instead of these cars running along Smithfield street to Seventh, they will turn down Third. This is to relieve the congestion in Smithfield street and also to shorten the running time.

The work of connecting the West End cars with the new tracks, on the lower, or wide side of Smithfield street bridge, will be completed this week.

JAPANESE WOMEN.

Examples of System.

THE Japanese do not believe in a "weaker sex." They believe in teaching women to be as strong as the men. This they accomplish by a system of training for the body known as Jiu Jitzu. First, their basis of all strength is a healthy stomach. Second, practicing deep breathing in the open air for at least fifteen minutes—standing with hands on hips. Then, exercises that strengthen heart, arms and legs—but never practising these to the point of great fatigue—taking time to it and increasing the exercise each day. This system followed up, puts the Japanese women on a par with the men so far as physical strength is concerned. Such methods of bringing up young girls would be wholesome for American mothers to practice—as in mature life health and strength depends so much on the early training. Women have themselves to blame for being "the weaker sex." Mentally she is man's equal; physically she is usually his inferior. The reason is that as a girl she usually does not take the exercise in the outdoor air that her more fortunate brother does; then she early develops a female weakness due to catching cold at some critical period, or to tight lacing or some carelessness. If the young girl is anemic and pale she is predisposed to such irregularities. The mother should advise her at such time and get some good medical work, like the "Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D. If the young girl shows peculiar nervous symptoms, it would be well for the mother to write a personal letter to Dr. Pierce, and she will receive confidential advice from him without any charge, simply costing the postage stamp and paper.

"You may think I am only a fraud as I have not written to you recently," writes Mrs. Lucy Wolfinger, care of Mr. Markley, Thorp's Lane, (Roxburgh), Philadelphia, Penn'a, but I thought I would wait and see if I would have any return of my trouble. I find my health remains good. You must remember I was a physical wreck when I first wrote to you, having been only five months out of the hospital after undergoing an operation and not getting much better. You answered my letter almost right away, for which I thank you most heartily, telling me to get your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' also 'Lotion Tablets' and 'Suppositories;' all of which I used and found that they were worth their weight in gold. I only weighed one hundred pounds last January, when I first wrote to you, but now my weight is one hundred and thirty-five pounds. I could do no work—the lightest kind was too much for me. Now we have a little vegetable garden which I take care of and do the housework for five, all myself. My friends are never through telling me how well I look. They say I am ten years younger in looks. My own family doctor says it is wonderful the change that has been made, so you see I have a great deal more to thank you for than I will ever be able to do; but I will always pray for your guidance and protection, and will always recommend your medicines. I do not think that any one could suffer more than I did. I took seven bottles of each kind of medicine and used one box each of the 'Lotion Tablets' and 'Suppositories.'"

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets clear the complexion and sweeten the breath, they cleanse and regulate the stomach, liver and bowels and produce permanent benefit and do not re-act on the system. One is a gentle laxative.

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

should have a medical book handy, for knowledge is power. A standard work is The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 31 one-cent stamps, for the cloth-bound book, or 21 stamps for the paper-covered volume.

We guarantee that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription does not contain alcohol, opium, or any harmful drug. It is a pure compound of medicinal plants scientifically combined. Persons making false statements concerning its ingredients will be prosecuted.

World's Dispensary Medical Association,

R. V. Pierce, PRESIDENT.
